FIGHT STILL RAGES AROUND MADRID

Battle Proceeding Along 10-Mile-Long Front

LOYALISTS ANNIHILATED IN NIGHT STRUGGLE FOR CASA DE CAMPO

London, Nov. 15.

While fighting continues over a 10-mile front, the Casa de Campo country remains the chief battleground in the struggle for the capital, according to cables received from Reuter's special correspondent with the insurgent forces.

Three Britons are reported to have been found among the slain after a fierce night battle in Casa de Campo's forest, where 200 militiamen, under cover of darkness, scaled the walls of the park and desperately attacked the insurgent outposts.

The attacking force was annihilated by the rebels, who also sustained severe losses in the fight.

Trained units of the Government militia again attacked Colonel Castejon's column, which occupies a portion of the Casa de Campo, but the blow was delivered without artillery support and appeared to lack cohesion and determination.

Further north, Colonel Barron's column pushed forward and occupied houses near the Segovia bridge. It is believed the Government's machine-gunners have withdrawn from this sector, probably taking up a new position on the Madrid side of the river.

Heavy fighting continued at other points south of Madrid throughout the entire day.—Reuter.

Madrid Bombed Again

Madrid, Nov. 15.

Ten insurgent bombers and 12 fighting planes raided Madrid this morning and dropped a number of bombs.

One fell on the university and others on the North Station and populous dwelling-quarters, causing a number of casualties.

Government fighting planes went up to the attack, but the insurgents fled.

It is unconfirmedly reported that two insurgent bombers were later brought down by Government machines.—Reuter.

Air Raiders' Toll

Madrid, Nov. 15.

In three air raids over Madrid to-day 17 persons were killed and over 100 wounded, according to a communiqué issued this evening.

The papers publish an estimate, which they claim to be fully corroborated, that Government air fighters and anti-aircraft gunners have destroyed 100 insurgent planes in the past fortnight.—Reuter.

Rebels Repulsed

Madrid, Nov. 15.

A communiqué issued to-day, after stating that a large number of women and children had been killed in the air raids of the previous day, declares the insurgents tried to force a way over the Manzanares River by way of the French Bridge, to the north-west of the city.

A mass attack, led by Moroccan troops, aided by 15 tanks, was repulsed by the Government infantry, assisted by planes.

This morning a new attack was repulsed at the same point.

Legionnaires and Moroccan troops violently attacked again in the afternoon, after an artillery bombardment of intensity. Infantry, supported by tanks, advanced with fine courage.

The militia, says the communiqué, pretended to retreat. They executed a sudden "turning movement," however, and forced the insurgents back to their own lines. It is unofficially claimed that three tanks fell into the hands of the Government soldiery.—Reuter.

Fighting Around Getafe

Rabat, Nov. 15.

The admission of a fighting has occurred in the vicinity of Getafe is contained in a wireless message which states that a number of Catalan and Russian troops, using the most up-to-date Russian fighting

Rebels Renew Bombardment Of Madrid

Madrid, Nov. 16.

Last night the insurgents resumed the bombardment of Madrid.

A number of shrapnel shells exploded over the city's central districts and the buildings were sprayed with grapeshot.

Three six-inch shells fell near the Cortes.

The militiamen have blown up the French bridge, according to an official communiqué, owing to the pressure from the rebel attack at this point.—Reuter.

PROBATE GRANTS

FORMER TIENTSIN MAN'S ESTATE

The late Mr. William Scott Borrow, formerly of Tientsin, who died at Peking on March 29 last, left local estate amounting to $6,100. An application by Mr. R. A. Wadson, solicitor, the lawful attorney, for sealing exemplification of probate of the will, has been granted.

Local estate worth $1,300 was left by the late Mrs. Carolina Maria Pereira, widow, formerly of 25 Bowerington Road, who died at St. Paul's Hospital on May 14, 1934. The deceased lady left no known next-of-kin, and letters of administration to the estate have been granted to Mr. E. P. H. Lang, Official Administrator.

equipment, attacked Getafe on the right hand side, from behind the Hill of Angels, but was repulsed with heavy losses.

"Our tanks ravaged the enemy ranks and the survivors fled for Madrid, pursued by our aircraft."—Reuter Special.

Caballero Directing

Valencia, Nov. 15.

A communiqué issued to-day after a Cabinet meeting, there reveals that Senior Largo Caballero personally supervised the arrangements for the Government's counter-offensive during his visit to the capital last week.

The Prime Minister returned to Valencia after the offensive had started, but the Ministers of Justice and Commerce have remained in Madrid.—Reuter Special.

RUSSIA AGAIN ACCUSED SENDING TROOPS INTO SPAIN. CONSTANZA REPORTS

Berlin, Nov. 15.

Fresh German efforts in London to initiate effective control of armaments shipments to Spain are regarded as probable. In view of the delay of the insurgents before Madrid and the many reports of Russian arms and munitions shipments to the Government forces.

To this assistance from Russia, newspapers are attributing General Francisco Franco's recent lack of success.

The Voelkische Beobachter, for example, features a report from Constanza, that strong detachments of first class Soviet troops left Odessa on Friday for Spain in armoured auxiliary cruisers.

There is no disposition to link the Spanish question with the talks Herr Adolf Hitler, the Chancellor, has had with his army and other chiefs during the past few days. These conferences are believed to have been quite general in character.—Reuter.

Java Chinese Plans Flight To Hongkong

Preparations are being completed for a long-distance aeroplane flight from Java to Hongkong and Nanking by Mr. Hsu Chi-shing, a 30-year-old Java-born, Dutch-trained Chinese aviator.

Spurred by success in his Java-Holland long-distance flight last year, Mr. Hsu has decided to undertake the Java-China flight in order to study present conditions in his home country, particularly in the field of aviation.

STUDIED IN ENGLAND

Mr. Hsu, who graduated in 1933 from the Netherlands Military Officers' Academy and later had advanced studies in aeronautics in England, will use a monoplane. The only other passenger on his flight will be his wife.

His 4,000-mile flight, it is learned, will be over Sumatra, Singapore, Bangkok, Hongkong, Shanghai, Amoy, Canton, and from there to Nanking. Mr. Hsu, it is said, will not attempt to set up any record, but will make the trip in comfortable stages.

Should he meet with unfavourable weather, Mr. Hsu will take the Hanoi route through French Indo-China instead of via Bangkok.

ENGLAND EXPECTS U.S. TO ACT MONEY POURING INTO AMERICA

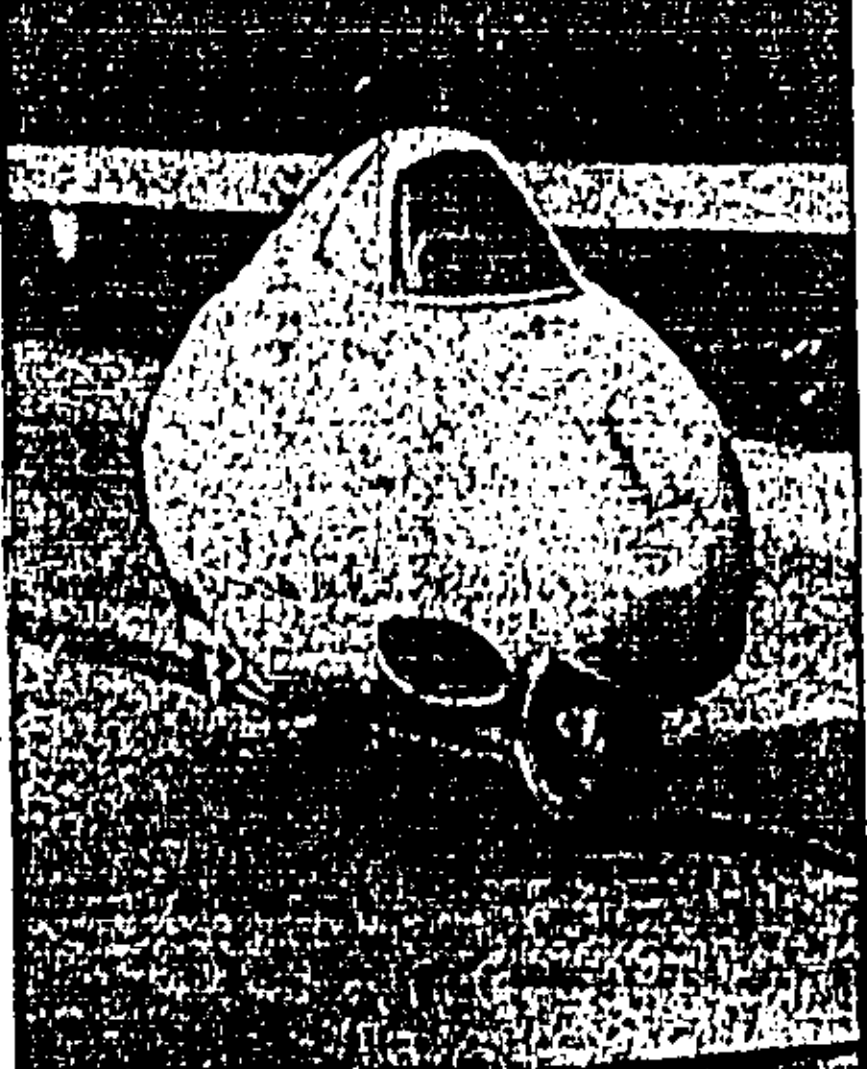

London, Nov. 14.

Official quarters here to-day expressed the opinion that the British Treasury will conduct discussions with the United States regarding President Roosevelt's warning that foreign capital is being invested in American securities on a gigantic scale.

They indicated that such discussions would be concerned with the possible consequences of the President's declaration, which disclosed that many London stock-

TOURISTS STRANDED BY STRIKE

SHANGHAI POLICEMAN PLEADS FOR SHIP

Honolulu, Nov. 15.

An appeal to American shipping strikers to let one ship at least leave port, was made by the Yorkshirer, Mr. James Fenton, who landed in Hawaii while taking a holiday trip home after spending eleven years in Shanghai.

He is on the Shanghai police force and has been stranded in Honolulu for days, on account of the United States shipping strike and the general tie-up in this port.

Said Mr. Fenton: "The detention of harmless people is outrageous. Surely one ship can be allowed to leave immediately. Owners and strikers could be recompensed for the cost."

"While we are forced to remain here, I and many others are fast going broke. Honolulu costs us more daily than a week of living in England," he complained.—Reuter.

CORRESPONDENCE

Central Market

The Editor, Hongkong Telegraph.

Sir,—While the Colony's health is to the fore, why can nothing be done about Central Market?

As one who braves the horrors of the place two or three times every week, I think it is high-time some-one took an interest in the place where most of the Colony's food comes from. No one, by any stretch of imagination, can call it sanitary.

M. D.

NEWS ON OTHER PAGES

An elaborate system of trenching on the site to be occupied by the new $20,000,000 military cantonment in Kowloon will, it is expected, entirely free the outskirts of the mainland city from the scourge of malaria. Page 7.

Hongkong will have three new issues of postage in the next five years. The Coronation issue will be withdrawn, and will be replaced by an issue that will be similar to that issued during the reign of Queen Victoria. A third issue will probably be made in 1941 for the Centenary. Page 7.

New Army Headquarters are to be built in Hongkong, in the vicinity of the present building at Seven and Sixpenny Hill. The military authorities are also proceeding with the erection of barracks at Stanley Peninsula, where a battery is to be stationed in future. Page 7.

DYSENTERY APPARENTLY ON THE WANE

But Epidemic has Made Appearance in Canton

The epidemic of dysentery which struck terror into the hearts of Hongkong mothers, the local Health authorities believe, is commencing to wane. No deaths have been reported in Hongkong since Saturday.

But, according to reports received by the Telegraph this morning, the scourge has now spread to Canton, where at least one European child is stated to be ill.

Prayers were offered yesterday in St. John's Cathedral and other churches for the safety of Hongkong young ones.

Shortly before, a tragic ceremony was being enacted at sea a few miles from the Colony. Carrying two small, white coffins, the naval tugboat St. Monance steamed slowly out of the harbour and when almost out of sight of land stopped its engines, while a funeral service was read by the Rev. Mr. Evans and Rev. Mr. Parker.

Then, in one of the most tragically solemn moments witnessed on the China Station for many years the bodies of Malcolm Stirling-Hamilton, son of Lt. Cdr. and Mrs. R. W. Stirling-Hamilton, H.M.S. Orpheus; and David Robin Jenks, son of Lt. and Mrs. R. F. Jenks, H.M.S. Medway, were consigned to the sea.

Lt. Cdr. Stirling-Hamilton who is in command of the submarine Orpheus, is the heir of a baronetcy created in 1873, his father, Sir William Stirling-Hamilton, being the eleventh holder of the title. Lt. Cdr. Stirling-Hamilton was married in 1930 to the daughter of the Rt. Rev. H. K. Southwell, Bishop of Chichester.

MAY END SUDDENLY

Dr. G. W. Pope, Medical Officer of Health, seen by a Telegraph representative this morning, stated that for the 24 hours ended at 1 a.m. to-day, two further cases of both European children, had been admitted to hospital—one at the War Memorial Nursing Home and the other at Victoria Hospital.

Dr. Pope stated that he did not think the outbreak was due to water, because the cases were spread over such a widespread area—from Taiipo to the Peak. Also, bacteria did not multiply in water.

The opinion was also expressed by Dr. Pope that the outbreak was not due to fruit or vegetables, because these would not normally be given to children under one year of age.

There appeared to be some evidence, said Dr. Pope, that the epidemic would end almost as suddenly as it began.

Meanwhile, the Dairy Farm Company announces that all its supplies of milk and cream are being pasteurised, and could be taken without danger of any kind.

DARWIN'S DEFENCES

PART OF SINGAPORE DEFENCE SCHEME

FORTIFICATIONS now being erected at Darwin, Northern Australia, are an important adjunct to the Singapore defence scheme, states a Sunday Times message from Darwin.

The Chief Commonwealth Architect, Mr. Hastie, arrived in Darwin last month to advise local authorities on the projected works programme, and to design artificial protection so that a safe scapeline anchorage can be provided in the near future.

This scapeline base will be a vital part of the Darwin defence plan, which includes:

Protection of the nine naval oil-tanks which have a storage capacity of 72,000 tons;

Completion of a fort for the garrison which will man the guns guarding the harbour;

Dredging of the harbour, which has been provided with a 30-ft. mooring depth for cruisers;

Establishment of Royal Australian

Are You Going to a PARTY?

THERE always seems to be a big crop of informal parties about this time of year, little intimate affairs when even the simplest of evening frocks is out of place.

The telephone rings and you are invited by Elizabeth to come and drink a cocktail with Bill, who is passing through to Shanghai on his way back from leave. Some body else decides that a bridge party on the verandah followed by a buffet supper would be an excellent way of getting fresh air without troublesome exercise. Or Philip calls with car and suggests making up a foursome and driving down to Repulse Bay for supper and a dance or two.

By
Susan Gay

For such impromptu excitements one's dress need not be elaborate. A pretty little afternoon frock is all that is necessary.

THE pattern sketched here, would be excellent for such purposes. It is dressy without being fussy, simple without being severe. If you are inclined to be a bit short and stumpy I suggest you should make it in the first style - in the illustration. The inverted tucks that run down for a few inches from the front of the neckline accentuate the centre front panels in the skirt and help to give an illusion of height. The ruffled sleeve-tops, too, allow graceful fullness to the sleeves without giving that balloon-like appearance that full sleeves so often give to stocky women.

MAKE it of plain georgette, a fabric that is becoming to all women. And if you want to be very smart make it of that new light rusty shade that seems to be a cross between tomato and orange. And wear a dark jade brooch and buckle.

The second version of this pattern is shown made up in flowered crepe de Chine. Here the bodice is cut without the centre fullness of the other design.

The white flowers in the red, green and white patterned material are emphasised by the white georgette collar that softens the high square neckline.

The fullness of the short, set-in-sleeves is gathered under a tab of the prettily-shaped sleeve band.

If you choose colours that blend or contrast with any light-weight coat that you may already have the two garments will make an excellent ensemble to carry you through the autumn.

Cooking on Skewers

RATHER more than five years ago my first article on cooking was published in the News Chronicle. We had been to the pictures and had seen on the screen a young Cosack eating some elaborate dish of skewered meats, and it seemed an amusing subject for an article.

The other day we motored past some campers in the New Forest. They were cooking their evening meal at a camp fire - on skewers! It is a most attractive way to serve meat, and fish too, and as it originates in the East it is very likely an elaboration of the old camp-fire cooking. It is very simple, but it is rather exciting; not, mind you, only by the fireside, but dainty little silver-plated skewers with exciting-looking pieces of meat, etc., impaled on them make an original meal for any wise hostess with which to surprise her friends.

Kebabs of mutton or lamb cut ready, with the pieces of bacon and onion, and to let them remain for an hour before they are cooked, sprinkled with curry powder, salt, pepper and a little ground ginger. They are then impaled, brushed over with butter and baked.

The skewers must be thin and about six to eight inches long. They may either be wooden ones, or just ordinary metal ones, or silver-plated or silver.

For example, cut some raw mutton or beef into little square pieces served with the meat on them, and about an inch and a half sides and when the rice has been helped on half an inch thick. Next to the plate the pieces of meat, etc., piece of meat put a piece of bacon are pulled off the skewer on to it.

When you have enough on the skewer, salt and pepper it and perhaps sprinkle over a little mixed herbs, pour over a little melted butter and grill or bake in the oven.

Or you can add half a kidney, and slices of lightly fried mushrooms, a piece of mutton, half a kidney, a piece of bacon, and so on, with melted butter and browned and grilled, being the top.

By
Ambrose Heath

served on the skewers, accompanied often with some straw potatoes and fresh watercress.

Skewered Fish

FISH can be skewered too. Another Continental dish is brochettes of salt cod. Here the pieces of cod are alternated with slices of tomato, and the whole is grilled or baked in the oven, with plentiful basting of butter or olive oil.

But pieces of lobster skewered between slices of mushroom, egg and breadcrumbed and then fried in deep fat make a delicious dish, and I have even come across a skewer dish of mushrooms alone, with one piece of stale bread between every two slices of mushroom. These are then liberally anointed with butter and slowly grilled, being served afterwards with melted butter into which you have squeezed a little lemon juice.

You will have to be careful in grilling not to get your bits of meat overdone. Some people like to stick the skewer at first in the flames for a second or two, as it gives a pleasant burnt taste to the meat. If you bake your skewers, put them in the oven on a grid or hang them from a grill, being the top.

FREDDIE BARTHOLOMEW'S PARENTS "VANISH" AFTER AMERICAN TRIP

NORMA SHEARER FEARS SHE WILL NEVER ACT AGAIN

Hollywood, Nov. 5.

GLAMOROUS NORMA SHEARER, recovering in her Californian home after a secret fight against bronchial pneumonia—the illness that recently killed her producer husband, Irving Thalberg—has revealed to her friends a premonition that she will never act for the films again.

The Juliet of millionaire Thalberg's last production has fought so courageously against her illness that her temperature has now dropped to normal for the first time for a fortnight.

Husband's Illness

It was the strain of her husband's last illness that undermined her health—wearing hours at his bedside, then the shock of his death.

She was so run down that when she caught cold it almost immediately turned to pneumonia. Dr. V. R. Mason ordered her children, Irving, aged four, and Katherine, aged one, to be kept away from their mother because of the danger of their being infected. To-day her children were admitted to her room again for the first time, just for a few minutes.

MYSTERY 'PHONE CALL TO LONDON LAWYER

WHERE are Freddie Bartholomew's parents? What has happened to them?

These questions are being asked with considerable anxiety by relatives and friends of the British boy film star's father and mother. Their anxiety arises from the fact that the recent movements of Mr. and Mrs. Bartholomew are a complete mystery.

More than a month ago they left Hollywood to return to London via Mexico. Their two little daughters, Ellen and Hilda, who are in a convent in London, received a postcard from them shortly afterwards.

It was dated from Mexico, and told the children their parents were on their way to London, and would be seeing them soon.

THE LAST TRACE

The lawyer who has acted for the Bartholomews in New York expected a visit from them on their homeward journey, but they did not appear, and he has not heard from them.

Last week a telephone call was received at the London office of Mr. Albert Fletcher, the solicitor who has acted for Mr. Bartholomew on this side, and who was given power of attorney on behalf of the two children, Ellen and Hilda.

The telephone call purported to come from Cecil Llewellyn Bartholomew, Freddie's father, and the caller promised to visit the office, but Mr. Bartholomew has not called in person, and no further message has been received.

At the Canadian Pension Office where Mr. Bartholomew is paid a war disability allowance, it was stated that he called one day last month to collect pension money, but it was not then available.

This was after the telephone call to Mr. Fletcher, and is the last trace his friends can find of Mr. Bartholomew.

At the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries, where he has been for some years employed as a clerk, nothing is known of his recent movements. He was granted leave of absence to visit America, but this leave expired on October 8.

His relatives and friends, including those who helped to finance that journey to America, which he made with the object of settling the problem of Freddie's guardianship, are naturally anxious as to the health and safety of the parents who have so mysteriously disappeared.

CHILDREN'S FUTURE

Mr. Fletcher and other friends have matters of immediate importance to discuss with Mr. Bartholomew.

Not least of these is the question of the future maintenance and welfare of the two girls, Ellen and Hilda, who seem to be temporarily orphaned and are anxiously inquiring, "What has happened to Mummy and Dad?"

£100 A MONTH

UNDER the settlement of Freddie Bartholomew's affairs, the boy star will receive in trust 50 per cent. of his earnings, estimated at £225 a week.

Of this his parents are to receive £100 a month.

"BLACK ARTS IN FASHION AGAIN"

Mr. MacDonald
Says So

Edinburgh, Nov. 10.

THAT young men and women are believing more and more in the black arts—magic and witchcraft—was asserted by Mr. Ramsay MacDonald when he spoke here this afternoon before a gathering of some of the most distinguished scholars in Scotland.

Mr. MacDonald, who was opening a reconstructed Church of Scotland college library, referred to the books on the black arts which the library possesses and questioned where they were obtained.

"Did the people who presented them have a pre-conception of these things?" he asked. "I am told that the black arts are getting more popular to-day than ever on account of a wave of extraordinary credulity among young and up-to-date people, who are turning more than ever towards it."

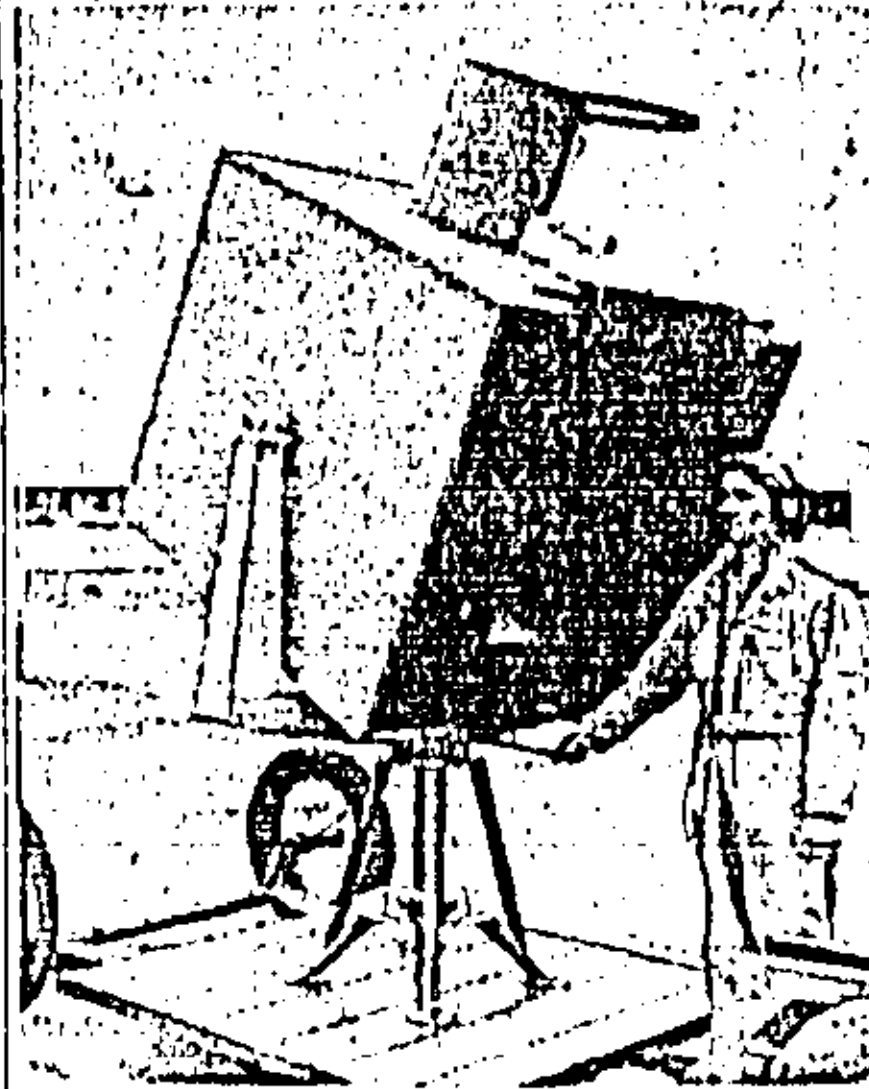

The books to which Mr. MacDonald referred form a collection of nearly 300 volumes. Classified in the section of the library devoted to "demonology and spiritualism," they include a variety of works on the occult sciences ranging from the early 17th-century books of the Satanists to more modern volumes on hypnotism and spiritualism.

"STAMPED OUT"

They were presented to the library many years ago from an unknown source.

Views expressed afterwards about Mr. MacDonald's statement were: The Rev. D. A. Mitchell Hunter, the librarian: "I do not think the black arts are practised in Scotland to-day."

The Rev. Dr. James Harvey, principal clerk to the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland: "Some of the highest class of men seem inclined to dabble in the black arts in a very amateurish sort of way. But black arts, as they were formerly known, have been stamped out in Scotland, though there is still much superstition in the Highlands."

This giant camera obscura is employed by the American Air Force to photograph bombers in order to mark their position in the air.

Madman's Seven Murders

Marseilles, Nov. 8.

Armed with two rifles a demented youth is roaming the forests and gorges of the Basses Alpes, after having shot seven persons dead.

The gendarmerie of Saint Etienne des Orgues and Forcalquier are searching the district where he is believed to be, while the terrified inhabitants of this wild mountain region have barred their doors and shuttered their windows.

The youth, who is aged eighteen, went mad yesterday afternoon, after having shot down the five-year-old son of a woodcutter, he then shot dead the woodcutter himself, and finally the woodcutter's wife and two little girls who ran to the woodcutter's assistance.

The youth then walked off, and after some hours spied a young shepherd named Pascal watching his flock in the dusk with a gun beside him. He killed Pascal with the first shot, picked up the shepherd's gun and ammunition, and continued his journey through the forest, armed with two guns.

He killed his seventh victim to-day, another shepherd, named Paul Magliani.

The district is some forty miles northwest of the region where terror was widespread some two years ago following the exploits of the "killer of the Year," who was guillotined last February for four murders.—Reuter.

LAW DEGREE FOR DUKE OF KENT

After a short tour of the colleges last month the Duke of Kent received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws at St. Andrew's University.

He was entertained by the University at lunch, and left immediately afterwards for Leuchars Aerodrome, whence he flew to an engagement in the South.

Don't Neglect Rheumatism!

Little Twinges Develop Into Big Pains And Crippling Disease.

Rheumatism usually asserts itself first in small ways—by occasional aching pains, or by cramps in the joints and muscles. Later the spasms become more frequent, intense and prolonged, and the sufferer dreads damp or cold weather as being certain to bring on an attack. If neglected, rheumatism is liable to develop into disabling, and ultimately fatal, disease.

Whilst the precise causes of rheumatism are still uncertain, there is positive evidence that it is a malady of the blood, and that tonic treatment through the blood is the right treatment to bring about relief and cure. This explains why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved so remarkably successful as a remedy for rheumatism in all its forms and even in its most severe and chronic stages.

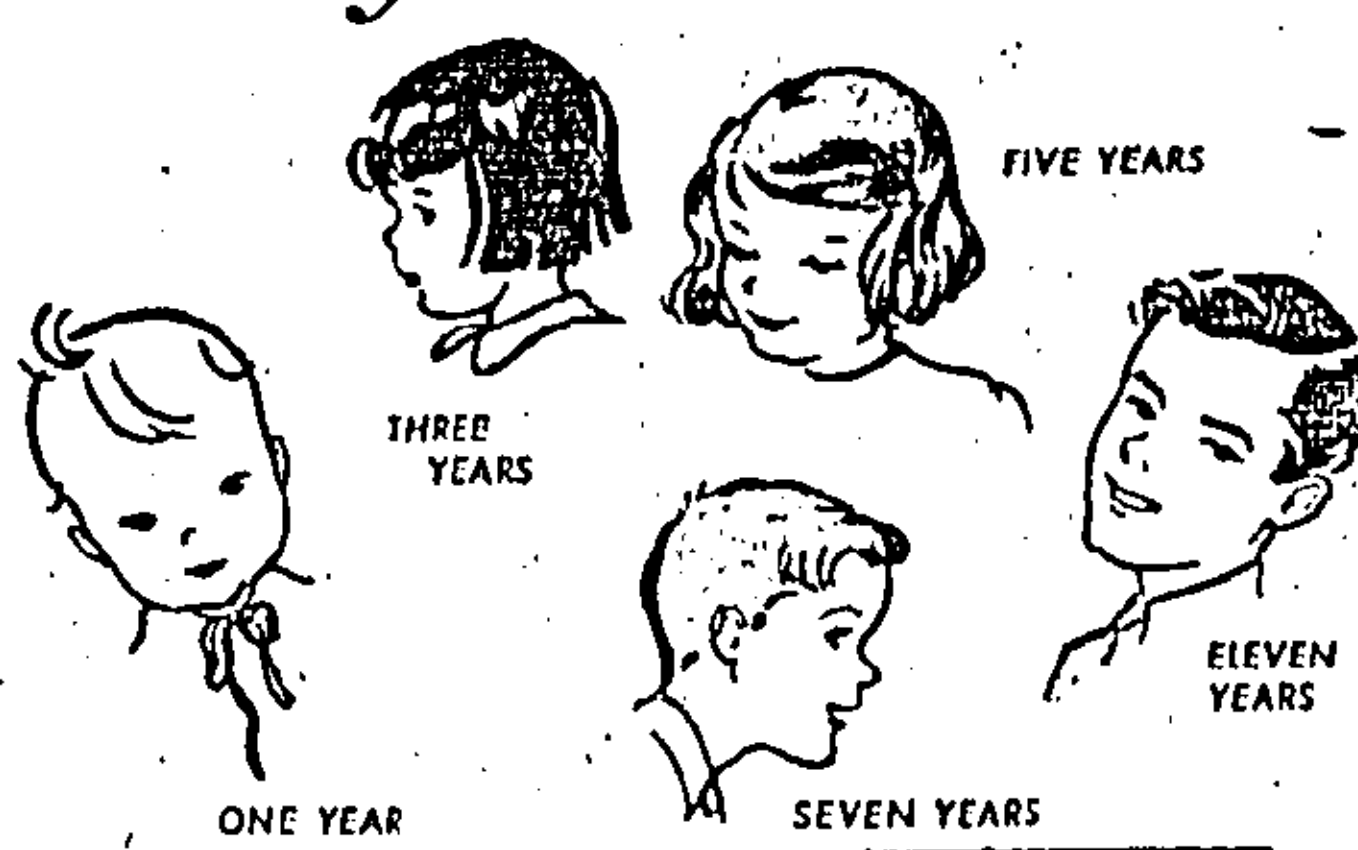

These pills are pre-eminently a Blood Tonic; they purify and enrich the blood with iron nutriment, and by rapidly increasing the red corpuscles they may be said to actually make new blood. And at the same time they strengthen the nerves, aid digestion, increase the appetite and build up the whole system.

From chemists everywhere, but refuse substitutes and insist on having Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

How Old is your Child?

If your child is under eleven—be careful what laxative you give him! He should have a special laxative—a child's laxative.

For adult laxatives are often too harsh for a child's sensitive system. They may cause him gripping pain or an upset digestion. It may be difficult to get a child to take a bad-tasting medicine.

But such things need not be. For there is one laxative that is perfect for children... Castoria is made especially for children—from babyhood to eleven years. You can give it to your child with confidence. Castoria is gentle—yet thorough. It contains no castor oil, no harmful habit-forming ingredients. And children love its "candy" taste!

In more than 5,000,000 American homes, mothers give their children Castoria for constipation, colic due to gas, upset stomach and the first symptoms of a cold.

Get a bottle of Castoria today. Be ready for the little upsets that come to every child. Give Castoria—the laxative that is made especially for children.

20-Years Pose as War "Widow"

FRAUDS totalling £2,611 on the Ministry of Pensions were disclosed at Westminster Police Court when it was stated that the wife of an Army sergeant—who was presumed to have been killed in 1917, but who, in fact, deserted—had been drawing a widow's pension for nearly 20 years while living with her husband.

Ethel Ada McDermott, aged 52, and Francis Joseph McDermott, aged 49, jointly employed as managers and manager at a Chancery-lane licensed restaurant, were each sentenced to six months in the second division.

Mrs. McDermott pleaded guilty to obtaining three sums of £2 10s. 10d. by false pretences from the Ministry, and her husband to aiding and abetting.

It was alleged that the woman had been granted an additional £5 for mourning.

Mr. C. J. F. Gwatkin, prosecuting, said that in January 1917 McDermott was serving in France as a sergeant in the Royal Irish Rifles.

On January 17 he disappeared and was posted as a deserter. Later that order was rescinded and Mrs. McDermott was granted a pension with effect from October 14, 1918, in respect to the death of her husband on active service.

When challenged after recent inquiries McDermott made a signed statement in which he said:

"In January 1917 I was blown up by a shell and the next thing I knew was that I was in a ship in which I reached England. I found my wife after I had been here about three months, and we have lived together since."

Mrs. McDermott, in her statement, said: "I was almost forced into applying for a pension by a woman at Crowborough, and having got it, I did not know what to do."

"If I had given it up I should have been asked the reason, and that would have meant 'the death' of my husband."

"I would have done anything short of losing my husband to have dropped the whole thing."

Mr. Norman Parkes, defending, said that in the early stages Mrs. McDermott was quite properly in receipt of the pension.

She did not tell her husband at that time, but when she did they were faced with the choice of either the wife being charged with fraud or the husband as a deserter. The husband now desired to accept full responsibility.

CINEMA
NOTES

There is good strong screen fare on the bill at the King's Theatre to-day with all the ingredients that combine for popularity. "His Brother's Wife," produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, with W. S. Van Dyke directing, brings Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Taylor to the screen in a spectacular romance. That alone is of striking significance. Jean Harlow is featured as a venturer in the far and dangerous places of the tropical jungle. Joseph Calleja scores in another of his suave bad-man roles. Van Dyke's tradition is superb. Of all the competent directors in Hollywood, none could have moulded this material so artfully as Van Dyke, with his knowledge of the jungle from personal experience and likewise his familiarity with human emotions. The daring story of a young scientist who ventures into the jungle to find the cure for a deadly malarial fever returns to the civilization that the woman he loves is his brother's wife, provides a dramatic vehicle for these distinguished stars. The audience last night attested with enthusiasm to the popularity of Robert Taylor and demonstrated beyond doubt their approval of an unusually fine picture.

"Mary of Scotland"

A vivid chapter of historic drama depicting the colourful and tempestuous career of Mary Stuart is brought to the screen with lavish pungent realism in "Mary of Scotland" co-starring Katharine Hepburn and Freddie March. The hectic life of this native young girl Mary Stuart, who suddenly finds herself transplanted from the luxurious warmth of the French court into turbulent Scotland, its warring factions, its ugly poverty, its religious strife, its unscrupulous intrigue, has lent itself admirably to spectacular reproduction on the screen. Miss Hepburn finds her greatest role in the delineation of the glamorous Scottish queen's character. She appears as a delicate as the girl queen romping with her playmates, the four Marys. She is poignantly alluring in the love scenes with the gallant Bothwell, played by March. She commands your admiration when matching wits with the canny Queen Elizabeth, both played by the vibrant Florence Eldridge. And she squeezes tears from your heart in the fleeting moments before her tragic execution. Freddie March is masterful as the Earl of Bothwell, presenting the most convincing performance of his successful career. He is the virile lover who made a queen forget her throne, her pride and future to bask in his affections. Mary Stuart's conflict with the treacherous Scottish lords; her marriage to her cousin, Lord Darnley, played by the able Douglas Walton, the murder of her secretary David Rizzio (John Carradine); Mary's romance with, and marriage to Bothwell; her flight to England, her long feud with Elizabeth and finally her execution; are highlights of this thrill crammed picture. John Ford as director has brought the barbaric flavour of 16th century Scotland convincingly to the screen. The film is showing simultaneously at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres to-day.

"The Suicide Club" Robert Louis Stevenson's fictional adventure on the screen proves as fascinating as it is in type. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has based "Trouble for Two" on the exciting Stevenson

ST. LOUIS INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL OPENED CEREMONIAL FUNCTION
HELD IN NEW BUILDING

The inauguration of the new building of the St. Louis Industrial School, situated in Third Street, Pokfulam Road, took place with due ceremony yesterday. In connection with this ceremony, the celebration of the Feast of St. Anthony, the Patron of the School's church, also took place.

The new building consists of three floors. The upper one is used as dormitory for the Salesian Fathers of the School. Under this is a large room, which is also used as a dormitory, but by the boys studying in the school. Then comes a chapel, large enough to hold a hundred persons. The ground floor is a printing room with up-to-date printing machines for the use of the pupils of the School.

The chapel in this building is only a temporary one, as a new church, occupying a site consisting of two terraces, is being prepared on a slope below Pokfulam Road, opposite the western gate of the Hongkong University. When completed it will be handed over to the charge of the Salesian Fathers. The new edifice, which will resemble the famous Church of the Salesians in Turin (Italy), in its main architectural details, is something of a novelty for Hongkong, for in its three storeys space will be found for an assembly room, a theatre or concert hall, and a parish school. The place of worship will be on a level with Bonnam Road, from which there is direct access.

Blessing Ceremony Yesterday, the blessing of the St. Louis Industrial School's new building was carried out by Mons. H. Valtorta, Vicar Apostolic of Hongkong.

After the blessing of the building, Mons. Valtorta delivered a homily on the virtues, the sacrifices and the miracles of the wonder Saint, Saint Anthony, who has been called the "Saint of Miracles," because of the wondrous things he has granted to those who sought his intercession. The procession followed the sermon. In this ceremony, over 500 Chinese Catholics paid homage to a beautiful statue of the Saint carried shoulder high by four men. Benediction was then held in the chapel, when the Rev. F. J. Pedrazini delivered a sermon in Portuguese.

After Benediction, tea was served in a lower room of the building, after which the gathering witnessed a very enjoyable display of gymnastic feats, performed by boys of the institution and boys from the Aberdeen Industrial School.

Selections of entertaining music were played by boys of both institutions.

story, "The Suicide Club." With Robert Montgomery and Rosalind Russell in the starring roles, the picture opened an engagement of two days at the Majestic Theatre last night. In the supporting cast are Frank Morgan, recently accorded distinction for his work in M-G-M's "The Great Ziegfeld." Reginald Owen, another featured player in the same picture; Louis Hayward, E. E. Clive, Robert Greig and others. The direction by J. Walter Ruben is faithful to the Stevenson narrative technique, yet at the same time attuned to the swifter tempo of the drama. Ruben is the man who directed "Public Hero," "Riffraff" and many other screen triumphs.

Promises Well

More than ever will leading firms concentrate on advertising in the "South China Morning Post" and "The Hongkong Telegraph" during 1937.

One progressive House will use a minimum of 20,000 single column inches between the two newspapers.

Others vary from 15,000 to 10,000 single column inches per annum.

This heavy support of the advertisement columns of the "Post" and "Telegraph" is proof of the consistent value offered.

The rates represent the most economical form of appeal to the majority of the purchasing classes.

It will pay YOU to concentrate during the coming year on the two newspapers with the certified circulations.

FIRST BIRTHDAY LOCAL FILIPINOS CELEBRATE

The first anniversary of the inauguration of the Commonwealth of the Philippines was celebrated yesterday afternoon when the Filipino community invited many guests to a tiffin, concert and dance in the Rose Room of the Peninsula Hotel.

Mr. Roberto P. de la Sala was Chairman, and over 200 people attended.

Under a Decoration Committee comprising Miss D. M. Lorenzo, Chairman, and Mr. S. d'Asis, and J. B. Vargas, the Rose Room was hung with the Filipino national colours, with the national emblem on the pillars and the Filipino flag, and the portrait of President Quezon at the head of the room.

In proposing the Toast to the Commonwealth, Mr. L. R. Hilderson pointed out the Shields of the Philippines with which the Rose Room was decorated, and said they represented the history of the Islands. In the middle were the Castle and the Sirene embodying the Spanish domination until 1898. Surrounding this was the Eagle for the United States and the Three Stars standing for the three main islands of the Philippines, Luzon, the Visayas and Mindanao. The emblems had now been combined to form the present coat of arms of the Commonwealth.

Chairman's Speech

In responding to the Toast, the Chairman, Mr. de la Sala, who is a grand nephew of the celebrated Filipino patriot, Regino, said:

A year ago to-day the Commonwealth of the Philippines albeit inchoate and semi-sovereign, was ushered into the family of nations. The keynote of modern colonialism was struck when on that historic November 15, 1935, the United States of America constituted and brought into being the Commonwealth of the Philippines, superseding the official title of the Government of the Philippine Islands. Thanks to the benignity of American liberalism we did not have to wade through slaughter to our ideal, neither did we need drench battlefields already gory with the sacrifices of Rizal, Burgos, Zamora and Del Pilar with life's previous blood.

That is the sombre but scintillating background of the Commonwealth of the Philippines. To-day, to each and every one of us, the Commonwealth is a challenge. It is a test, a trial, a dare. When, during the hectic discussion of the imminent Hare-Hawes-Cutting Act, a prophet of disaster asserted that "Commonwealth is Common Death," he was only anticipating the trials and tribulations that now are ours. We are, so to say, in the crucible. The Commonwealth expects of each and every one of us, at home and abroad, to contribute our share of sand in order that the fruition of our national ideal may be assured. The Commonwealth demands that we give our mite—and give till it hurts—in order that her strength be as of granite. She expects of us, residents on foreign shores, to keep abreast with her growth, to promote the development of international amity with whomsoever it may be our fortune to associate.

Particularly for us, Filipino residents in Hongkong, the challenge should be more ringing. For a reason. This Riviera of the Orient has been always a haven for the political refugees among our forbears during the dark days of Castilian domination. The Basins, the Maurics, the Apacibles and the Villars, not excluding the Revolutionaries, General Emilio Aguinaldo, found a temporary sanctuary in this secure and prosperous British colony. Incidentally, we have present with us to-day a worthy son of an illustrious father—Mr. Ricardo Basso. (Applause.)

Eula Hoff and Bob Burnett, talented American dancers, who will entertain patrons at the special dinner dance to-morrow night in the Peninsular Hotel Roof Garden.

It is my great pride, however, to make use of this opportunity to voice our common feeling of gratitude to the authorities of this Colony in the manner with which they have always accorded us due protection and care.

Goodwill Ambassadors

But, the Commonwealth further admonishes us to live by the ideals for which unnamed and unnumbered heroes have died, as well as to keep faith with the traditions of democracy and humanity instilled in us by our American benefactors. Above all she would want us never to for a moment forget that each and every one of us, in our right a true and genuine goodwill ambassador of our people that upon our conduct and deportment in these and other foreign shores, will the Filipino people be judged.

Recent national events in the United States have, however, cast a rosier hue to our future. We are not but be doubly thankful for the recent re-election of Franklin Delano Roosevelt to the presidency of the United States. (Applause) His beneficent administration made possible the creation of the Commonwealth which we now celebrate. Under his guidance in the next four years, particularly in view of his promise to make improvements where imperfections and inequalities in the Tydings-McDuffie Law are found, we can rest assured that the political foundation of the Commonwealth is secured. Our undying gratitude is due him.

We cannot, however, dwell on the American aspect of the Commonwealth without offering tribute to that peerless humanitarian exponent of social justice, benefactor and friend of the Philippines, Frank Murphy, last American Governor-General of the Philippines, First American High Commissioner to the State of Michigan. (Applause.) His election, deserving as it is, is heroes have died, as well as to keep faith with the traditions of democracy and humanity instilled in us by our American benefactors. Above all she would want us never to for a moment forget that each and every one of us, in our right a true and genuine goodwill ambassador of our people that upon our conduct and deportment in these and other foreign shores, will the Filipino people be judged.

Last, but by no means least, to the great Filipino emancipator, Manuel Luis Quezon, President of the Philippines, goes our tribute with the fervent prayer for his continued health that he may be able to bring our political struggle to a successful conclusion.

Roc velt, Murphy, Quezon—the triumphant whose names are engraved in the heart of every true son of the Commonwealth to their honour, do I request you all to rise up and join me in the jubilant "Mabuhay!" The gathering then rose and echoed the toast "Mabuhay," which is a Tagalog word, meaning "Good Luck."

Orchestra Concert

At the conclusion of the tiffin, an orchestra comprised of the musicians of the Hongkong Hotel provided a first class programme including "If I were King" (A. Adam) and Slavonic Rhapsody (Carl Friedemann), under the baton of Professor F. Gonzales.

The title of the concert, however, was a March, "Mi Patria" (My Country) which was especially composed by Mr. Pedro R. Antonio of Hongkong, for the inauguration of the Philippines Commonwealth. The March was conducted by him.

The solo items on the musical programme included a pianoforte solo, "Glencoe" (Tchaikovsky) by Mr. S. Fuller of the Hongkong Hotel Orchestra; a selection of syncope piano numbers by Mr. P. Vila; and a bracket of Spanish songs by Mr. G. F. de Aquino, "La Partida" (Alvarez) and "La Cejilla de un Palma" (Garcia). The musical programme concluded with the playing of the Filipino National Anthem, the "Star Spangled Banner" and "God Save the King."

The orchestra then played for dancing which continued until 7 p.m. Among those present were Dr. V. N. Alenza, Professor F. Gonzales, Misses Ena and Cynthia Alaves, Mr. L. Hilderson, Miss N. Soares, Mr. L. Costa, Mr. T. B. Wilson, Mr. J. S. Landolt, Mr. R. R. Basso, Mr. B. Young, Mr. A. Alves, Miss Benita Solo, and Mrs. R. P. de la Sala.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed Feeling You Could Push a Bus Over
The liver should pour out two pints of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely your food will digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up and you get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink.
Bile, the fiery drink, palatable laxative and harsh purgative are makebills. A more bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes the famous, sure acting Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pints of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and snappy".
Bile flows freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's on the red package.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL

Rev. Thos. F. Ryan, S.J., Chairman of the St. Vincent de Paul Bazaar Committee, forwards the following statement:

The Society of St. Vincent de Paul is gratified at being able to present the following accounts of the Bazaar Masque recently held at the Gloucester Hotel. The Society first of all wishes to tender the most grateful thanks to Mrs. Beatrice Church and the Directors and Staff of the Advertising Bureau, Ltd., who gave so freely of their valuable time. Mrs. Beatrice Church's well-known organising ability, backed by the unique experience of the Advertising & Publicity Bureau, Ltd., was a sure guarantee of the success of the Bazaar Masque.

The Society also wishes to thank most gratefully all who volunteered so readily to assist Mrs. Beatrice Church. Particularly, thanks are due to the Judges for their pains-taking care in the difficult task of adjudging the prizes for the costumes; to Mrs. S. H. Dodwell for so graciously giving away the prizes to the winners; to the ladies who so kindly volunteered to act as Dance Hostesses; to the ladies who sold tickets and programmes; to the Hongkong Daily Press, China Mail and Sunday Herald who devoted space in their papers to publicity and advertising for the Bazaar without any charge; to the Gloucester Hotel who gave their space in the South China Morning Post and Telegraph to the same purpose, and who provided the printing of the tickets; to the South China Morning Post and Telegraph who accepted advertising at a reduced price; to Messrs. Lane Crawford; Messrs. Reuter, Brookmann & Co.; Messrs. British American Tobacco Co. Ltd.; Messrs. Dodwell & Co. Ltd.; and Messrs. General Electric (China) Ltd., who so generously contributed prizes to the gentlemen who contributed towards the purchases of additional prizes, as already acknowledged through the Press; to the Star Ferry Co., and the Peak Tram Co., for displaying poster free of charge, and to the Advertising & Publicity Bureau, Ltd., for designing the posters.

IGNORING THE REALITIES

Although still treading a lonely furrow, in the sense that he commands no large political following, Mr. Lloyd George every now and then looms in the news, but his declarations on domestic and international affairs become increasingly difficult to follow. Of late, the only consistency he has shown has been in his general condemnation of the policies of the Government, no matter what the particular sphere may be. He has come into prominence latterly as a pacifist condemning "the mad race in armaments," as he glibly describes the Government's efforts to make its defences adequate to the demands which at any moment may be made upon them by a world full of menace. It is true that in the Boer War, Mr. Lloyd George was a pacifist, and a not particularly popular one. But the Great War found him eventually in a very different role—namely, the spearhead of Allied victory. No one knows better than Mr. Lloyd George how the country and the Allied cause suffered through lack of preparedness and through difficulty in accelerating the output of guns and munitions. In many passages of his many-volumed history of the Great War Mr. Lloyd George has told us all about it, and incidentally claimed for himself a greater degree of prescience than any of his contemporaries, civil, military, or naval. Surely, then, if the necessity for Britain's being prepared to defend itself should be clear to any person more than another, that person is Mr. Lloyd George. But we found him recently sending a message to the Pacifist candidate in a by-election, wishing him success and condemning the Government's efforts to make up arrears of armaments. It would, perhaps, be too much to say that Mr. Lloyd George is more concerned to discredit the Government than to see the country

The MINISTER of HEALTH explains how The Government Plans a FITTER BRITAIN

By

The Rt. Hon.
SIR KINGSLEY WOOD,
P.C., M.P.

29,000,000 weeks of work were lost in a single year among the insured population—much is preventable.

Much more, also, might be done to help those who, though they are in no sense ill, are not so fit as they should be to attain and maintain full physical vigour.

What, then, is the action to be taken?

In a Haphazard Way

FIRST, let me say a word about the prevention of disease.
Our health services, which began with preventive measures designed to protect the community from such dangers as faulty drainage and contaminated water supplies, and have now been extended to include elaborate provision for the health care of individuals at all stages of life, have grown up, as things are apt to grow in this country, in a rather hapazard way.

Since the present Government took office it has been our policy to do all that is possible to complete the health services and build up a comprehensive system for the health care of the people. A beginning has already been made.

When They Leave School

THE Midwives Act which became law a few months ago filled one, gap—and a very important one it was—by ensuring that no mother shall lack at the time of her confinement the services of a fully qualified midwife.

Class-Room Comedy

THE return of the scholars to school reminds us of the never-failing humour of the average schoolboy. His "howlers" have been the delight of his friends and the despair of his instructors. Here are a few.

"Charles I. was going to marry the Infanta of Spain. He went to see her, and Shakespeare says he never smiled again."

"After nineteen years in prison
Mary Queen of Scots was executed, and remained as beautiful as when she was young."

"Give imprisoned 146 men in the Black Hole of Calcutta, and so laid the foundations of our Indian Empire."

A class was told to write a short essay on "The Funniest Thing I Ever Saw." One boy soon did it. He wrote: "The funniest thing I ever saw was too funny for words."

A country teacher had to smile when she saw in one of her pupils exercise books—"A smock is a sort of nightshirt worn by country men in England during the day."

"Well, Johnnie," said uncle, "and how do you like going to school?"
"Oh! I don't mind going to school, Uncle, or coming home from school, but the time in between bores me stiff."

"Daddy," said little Willie, "our teacher says that the world is round.
If it is, and I wanted to go east, couldn't I get there by going west, couldn't I?" "Yes, my son. Loshi!
But you'll sure be a taxi-driver when you grow up."

"If a train is travelling" said the headmaster to the senior class, "from Inverness to Edinburgh at 60 miles an hour, another is going from Edinburgh to Inverness at 40 miles an hour, where will they pass each other?" At the same place, sir!"
said the bright boy.

A few more historical "facts":—"The British Constitution is perfectly sound, but owing to its insolent position it suffers from fog."

"Bunyan was the inventor of the Presbyterian religion, and he wrote
"The Pilgrim's Progress."

The arithmetic lesson often provides some funny answers.

"Why do you always add up wrongly in your home work?" the teacher asked. Tommie shook his head.

"Anyone help you?" she queried.
"Yes—my father." "Oh, and what is he?" "He's a waiter, teacher," said Tommie.

Soon after the new milk scheme had started wee Gordie was working out his sum with great patience.
Then he looked up. "Please, teacher, when am I gettin' ma milk?" he asked. "You'll get your milk," Gordie, when you've done your sum." "Please, teacher," he said pouting, "it'll be soon."

"Wolsey saved his life by dying on the way to London where he was to be executed," we are informed.

"The infammability of the Pope was proclaimed in the Vatican decrees."

"The tractor can plough six boroughs in the time a horse takes to do one."

A schoolmistress was describing to her class of small boys the different races of mankind. "The world is a vast area," she explained, and the various tribes—

She paused and eyed the wee laddie who could pay attention to nothing but "boots." "Well, Bobbie," she said to him, "will you tell the class which is the greatest race in the world?" "Yes, miss," he replied. "The Mussiburg Stakes."

The youngest of the family was about to commence his education when a visitor to the house asked him—"And when are you going to school, Kenzie?" "Oh, I'm not going to school," answered the young hopeful. "I'm going to Heriot's!"

Another small boy had just completed his first year, and mother was celebrating the event with a little tea party. "And how do you like Mr. Smith, the headmaster, Freddie?"
asked his uncle. "Oh, he's all right.
I heard he was like a father to you?" "H'm—m. He's worse than that!"

E. Vyner.

I hope, in the approaching session of Parliament, to be able to introduce a Bill to fill another gap —that which occurs at present when a child leaves to enter employment and, having lost the protection of the school medical service, is unable to enjoy the protection of the National Health Insurance Scheme before the age of sixteen.

Another question to which much attention is rightly being directed at the moment is that of nutrition, and I believe that the dietary surveys which, at the request of my Advisory Committee, I am about to ask local authorities to make on my behalf will assist us to determine how best to apply in practice the teachings of modern science.

Physical Training

NOW comes the question of the steps we can take to improve facilities for physical training and help our young people to keep fit.

How much we owe to the physical education given in our schools it is impossible to estimate, but no one pretends that even here the provision is complete.

Much useful work in this connection is also being done by voluntary bodies.

The thanks of the nation are due to all those who are giving devoted service to such splendid organisations as the Boy Scout and Girl Guide movements and the National Playing Fields Association.

The number of organisations of this kind is now very large, and I rejoice that this is so.

But they have, like our public health services, grown up in a piece-meal way, and I believe that our first task is to consider how best we can co-ordinate and extend all the excellent work that is being done so that it may all be directed to the object in view without undue overlapping or waste of effort.

In the second place, we have to make sure that in a country which has been so rapidly urbanised as ours there are adequate facilities for games and exercise.

We are doing much to encourage the provision of open spaces, recreation grounds and swimming baths, and that work must continue.

Depends on the People

IN these and other ways the Government, local authorities and voluntary organisations are seeking to do their part. But in the long run success must depend on the people themselves.

Public health services and recreation grounds are a great waste of public money if they are not fully used. We need an awakened Public Opinion—not, indeed, to make our people overcareful of their health—for we do not want a nation of hypochondriacs—but so that we may all take full advantage of the opportunities that exist for a complete and vigorous life.

Be Careful, Not Fearful

LET me say to all who read this article—your health is largely in your own hands; be careful but not fearful of it.

Use the public health services as and when you need them. If you are ill consult a doctor in good time; but it is better to keep well by seeking open air and exercise. I commend to you two lines of verse:—

"Better to hunt in fields for health unthought,
Than see the doctor for a nauseous draught!"

HEADQUARTERS TO BE BUILT ON ISLAND WORK COMMENCES SOON ON BIG MODERNISATION SCHEME

REORGANISATION OF THE ACCOMMODATION FOR TROOPS STATIONED IN HONGKONG ENVISAGES, IN ADDITION TO THE CONSTRUCTION OF A $20,000,000 CANTONMENT AT KOWLOON, THE ERECTION OF NEW ARMY HEADQUARTERS.

The new Headquarter buildings will replace those now in use at Seven and Sixpenny Hill, and will be erected in the vicinity. The present Army Headquarters were originally barracks. Two wings are occupied by Headquarters, while the third is still used to accommodate troops.

Work on the new Headquarters, which will be of most modern design, is expected to commence shortly.

Preliminary work will also be placed in hand shortly in connection with the construction of the new cantonment at Kowloon.

Before work is commenced on the construction of the buildings, a gigantic scheme of trenching will be undertaken in the entire surrounding area in order to safeguard the health of the workers and, later, the troops.

When this trenching system is completed, it is expected that the whole of the outlying Kowloon area, embracing Kowloon Tong, Kowloon City, Prince Edward Road, etc., will be entirely free from malaria.

Will New P. and O. Boats Be On Far East Run?

WILL the two new fast liners being built for the P. and O. fleet be placed in the far East service when they are put in commission next year? That is the question being asked in Hongkong shipping circles.

Both ships will be of the type and tonnage of the Strathmore—one of the P. and O.'s three "white sisters." The Strathmore and the Strathaird are the other two.

A number of internal refinements, suggested by past experience, will be included, but the general design will remain unchanged and the same colour scheme will be used.

Some difficulty is being experienced regarding the names of these two new liners, which are still only numbers—722 and 723.

The P. and O. Company intends them to carry on the "Strath" tradition, but the task of choosing names which will be suitable and not used elsewhere, have so far made it hard to make a final choice.

Both liners are certain to be capable of more than 20 knots. It is significant that the P. and O. Strathmore, on a recent run through the Bay of Biscay, achieved a speed of 21.03 knots over a distance of 515 miles.

CORONATION SPEED-UP

That shows what British ships are capable of provided a policy of speed is adopted. The record for the Bombay-Marseilles run is held by the Strathmore in 10 days against the clock.

Two fast liners from India will be specially employed by the P. and O. for the coronation rush next year. The two vessels—the Viceroy of India and the Strathmore—will take only 16 days, which is five days less than the normal schedule.

This speed-up will enable passen-

Gun Battery For Stanley Peninsula

WORK STARTS ON ACCOMMODATION

THE Stanley Peninsula on the Island of Hongkong will shortly become one of the Colony's fortified areas.

Work has already commenced on the construction of barracks to accommodate engineers and gunners.

Actually, the decision to station a battery at Stanley will not mean that Hongkong's defences are to be increased.

Under the terms of the Washington Treaty, which has not yet expired, this Colony is forbidden an increase in armaments.

The battery at Stanley will, therefore, be merely a re-stated battery or, in other words, one that will be removed from another part of the Colony.

It is interesting to recall that the Stanley Peninsula was the headquarters for the first garrison ever to be stationed in Hongkong. For many years the military encampment was there, and the old cemetery, which is still cared for, testifies to the terrible toll of malaria among the troops in the early days of Hongkong's history. Principal occupants of land on the Peninsula at present are the St. Stephen's Boys and Girls Schools. Work is, however, nearing completion on the new Prison, which will be placed into service in March, when over 1,000 prisoners will be transported from Victoria and Leichholt Prisons.

It is not a usual sight to see hospitals. Here is one, however, in Jersey City, sky-scraper. This giant tuberculosis hospital with roof solarium for patients was recently opened there.

THREE NEW STAMP ISSUES FOR H.K. IN FIVE YEARS

CORONATION ISSUE WILL BE WITHDRAWN

HONGKONG will most likely have three new issues of postage stamps in the next five years.

The new Coronation issue, which will consist of four denominations only, will be placed in circulation on Coronation Day, May 12.

They will be withdrawn before the end of 1937, when an entirely new issue, of all denominations, will become the stamp of the Colony.

These King Edward VIII stamps will in all probability be replaced in 1941 by a temporary issue celebrating the centenary of the cession of Hongkong to Great Britain. It is hoped that these centenary stamps will be of a pictorial design.

The "Telegraph" understands that Hongkong's four Coronation stamps will be unique insofar as they will differ slightly from those issued to other Colonies.

In addition to the English word "Hongkong," they will contain equivalent Chinese characters. Stamps of other Colonies will contain the name of the Colony in English only.

RADICAL CHANGE

The first all-denominational issue of King Edward VIII stamps may, it is understood, radically depart from the style adopted for the King George V issues. It is understood that the authorities contemplate a reversion to the style adopted during the reign of Queen Victoria.

In view of the fact that all first class letters will probably be carried by air mail as from 1937, the Hongkong authorities do not contemplate issuing a special air mail stamp.

High Road Toll in America

60 PER CENT. OF ALL INJURIES

New York, Nov. 10.

Sixty per cent. of all injuries sustained in this country are due to transport, stated Dr. John J. Moorhead, Professor of clinical surgery, at the New York Postgraduate Medical School, addressing the New York Academy of Medicine.

Next in order come industrial accidents, which account for 20 per cent. of the injuries. Ten per cent. can be traced to the ordinary hazards of everyday life, and the remaining ten per cent. to sports, miscellaneous sources and self-inflicted hurts.

Motor-cars, naturally, outstrip other means of transport in their responsibility for accidents, according to Dr. Moorhead, who said "Motor injury hitherto wholly unknown, and indeed they have made many of the rare types of injury exceedingly common. A factor of increasing importance is the aeroplane, and it is already looming large on the horizon of traumatology."

He said that as a result of the motor and aeroplane doctors in the most remote hamlets must be prepared at any time to cope with surgical situations of "extreme gravity," since the first treatment of the injury may determine the outcome of the case.

HAZARDS OF FOOTBALL

He spoke of the first six hours after accidents as the "golden period" when cuts and fractures can be treated with the minimum danger of complications.

Discussing accidents in sports, Dr. M. A. L. Stevens, himself a football coach as well as an orthopaedic surgeon, said that football (an Americanised form of Rugby) was the most hazardous sport, causing 87.9 accidents in 1,000 cases, followed by accidents in 1,000 cases, followed by 9.3; Association football, 0.1; rowing, 5.3; and boxing, 4.6. Despite the hazardous nature of football, Dr. Stevens said, the mortality among its players is lower than among non-athletes in colleges.

DIED LISTENING TO DIAGNOSIS

MAN WHO SENT SOS TO DOCTOR AT SEA

Port of Spain (Trinidad), Nov. 10. The story of the death of an English wireless operator at sea as he was listening to a diagnosis of his illness for which he had sent out an SOS, was told here to-day.

The dead man is J. Dodds, wireless operator aboard the British vessel, a.s. Stargoon (4,500 tons), who was taken suddenly ill as his ship was passing the Windward Islands.

Officers aboard the Bermuda passenger steamer Nerissa, which arrived here last night, said Dodds himself wirelessed the symptoms of his illness, asking their doctor for a diagnosis and the way to treat it. The Nerissa's doctor quickly responded, but while receiving the diagnosis, Dodds collapsed and died at the receiver. He was buried at sea, near St. Lucia.—Reuters.

Vicar, 65, To Marry Parlourmaid Of 24

Burnham (Bucks), November 10.

THE REV. PERCY NOTT, 65-year-old vicar of Burnham, has resigned—bequeathing his vicarage to a "younger and richer man"—and is marrying Miss Elsie Cory, 24-year-old parlourmaid.

He said: "My work is getting too much—I am growing old."

In January he leaves the village, and takes his bride to a quiet house in Wales, two miles from Bangor. There they will spend their honeymoon and finally settle down.

Miss Cory, maid to Captain H. Lance Etherington-Smith, of Green Lane House, Burnham, has been a member of Mr. Nott's congregation since she was 17. She frequently played the organ worked on church welfare committees, and occasionally nursed the vicar's first wife, who died early this year. Mr. Nott has five children—some older than Miss Cory. One daughter is married.

QUIET WEDDING. He said: "When my wife died, I felt I wanted to leave this big house. Now there is only my daughter, Rachel, left at home, and the house is too big for two of us.

"Miss Cory and I will be happy in Wales. We shall marry quietly after I retire in January—not here, somewhere where we are not known."

Miss Cory's mother, a member of the choir, said: "We are all happy about the marriage, and I will hear nothing against it."

"Some people have not liked Elsie playing the organ, but she is not the girl to take much notice of talk."

"She's a fine girl—tall and handsome, with dark hair. She'll make a good wife."

K. C. C. TENNIS PARTY WINS MATCH AT CANTON

ENTERTAINED BY GERMAN CLUB

EXCITING FINISH TO A KEEN ENCOUNTER

(By "Veritas")

MEMBERS of the German Tennis Club at Tungshan threw their hospitable doors wide open during the week-end to a Kowloon Cricket Club tennis party, and made possible one of the most enjoyable and successful of these series of inter-club sporting and social events which are carried out yearly.

Lavish arrangements were made for the comfort and entertainment of the visitors, and these together with the happy atmosphere of warm friendship which existed and the keen tennis matches during the two days, made the visit a memorable one for Hongkong players.

The result of the tennis, which comprised men's and ladies' singles and doubles, and mixed doubles, was in doubt until the last. On Saturday the teams finished on level terms, each winning five matches. Sunday morning saw K.C.C. take a useful lead of two matches, but fortunes varied during the afternoon and when the final men's singles started the visitors had a slender lead of nine matches to eight. It was expected that the German Club would draw level through G. Bodiker, but he was held to a draw after a first set of 20 games, the light being too bad to allow a finish.

K.C.C. LADIES SPLENDID

The visitors owed everything to their ladies for the position they found themselves in on Saturday evening. The Misses Griffiths, Dalziel and Mackenzie played splendidly on strange courts to win all three singles. One of the best matches of the programme was the vital mixed doubles between Bodiker and Mrs. Kanter and E. C. Fincher and Miss Dalziel.

Though suffering from a strained back which affected his game the previous day and stopped him from playing singles, Fincher put up a brilliant display in this encounter. The visitors won the first set fairly comfortably, Mrs. Kanter being rather below form. But the German players recovered strongly, ran away with the second set and led 4-2 in the final.

Then some volleying errors by Bodiker allowed the K.C.C. couple to recover, and finally they went out to a thrilling victory after a fine display of tennis.

Another smart win was that of R.S. Capell and Miss Griffiths against Mr. and Mrs. Rodé. Mrs. Rodé, the most promising lady player at the German Club was in fine form with her drives, but her partner faltered after a good start. The visitors lightened up their game after losing the first set, and once they were on level terms, could not be stopped, the third set going to them at 6-1.

BIGGEST UPSET

The biggest upset of the programme was the defeat of Gray and Miss Mackenzie by Nymaluk and Mrs. Lehmann. Both K.C.C. players struck a bad patch, and with the home team playing steadily, there could be only one result.

Afterwards Gray went on to surprise Bodiker by holding him to a first set of 20 games and six-all in the second set. By that time it was dark and the match was left drawn. Bodiker found the rhythm of his ground strokes upset by the rush tactics of his opponent who was able to follow up behind some fast fore-hand drives.

Gray held a set point in the twelfth game, but Bodiker saved it and finally went to his points at 11-9. There was never more than one game difference in the scores throughout the match.

The "Veterans" encounters between Messrs. Dillner, Schneider, Lehmann, Hurst and Freeman were rousing affairs. Once again Dillner came out tops against Hurst in the singles, while Freeman could not stand the pace in the hot sun and lost to Lehmann after a long first set. The doubles also saw Dillner and Schneider repeat an old victory, when they beat Hurst and Freeman.

SHOOTING MATCH

On Sunday morning a couple of hours were spent on the club's rifle range, when the tennis teams engaged (Continued on Page 9.)

MIXED DOUBLES CHAMPIONSHIP

Capt. Milne And Mrs. Ashton

WIN THROUGH TO SEMI-FINAL

Captain Milne and Mrs. Ashton yesterday entered the semi-finals of the Colony mixed doubles tennis championship when they beat G. E. Clarke and Mrs. McCaw in a second round encounter by 6-3 6-4.

Mrs. Ashton was at the top of her form and was the best performer on view. Her steadiness proved too much for the opposition, while the understanding between her and Captain Milne was superior to that of the K.C.C. couple.

Clarke and Mrs. McCaw were leading 4-1 in the second set, but Capt. Milne and Mrs. Ashton made a great come-back, and after levelling the scores, went on to win the set and match in the tenth game.

Clarke played quite well throughout, and Mrs. McCaw was reliable until the closing stages. As a pair, however, the winners were infinitely the better.

SHOCK FOR CLUB: RIFLES NOT IMPRESSIVE

KOWLOON CHINESE SURPRISED

EAST LANCS SEIZE CHANCES

TSUI AH-FAI BELOW FORM

Kowloon Chinese 0 E. Lances 2

(O'Donnell, Tukey)

This match, played yesterday on the Club ground was another example of the failure of close later passing in front of goal. Kowloon Chinese had numerous opportunities, but they persisted in trying to take the ball up to the goal line before shooting. It was played into the hands of Swain and Steele, who were perfectly happy against such tactics.

Territorially the Chinese were far superior to the soldiers, who were flattered to find themselves two goals to the good at half-time. The first 20 minutes were all in favour of the Chinese, but indecision in front of goal brought about the collapse of several clever and promising movements.

The same story can be told concerning the last ten minutes. Only during the latter part of the first half and the early phases of the second half were the East Lances on top.

All the same the soldiers were much improved on recent displays, notably in the attack, where O'Donnell, Tukey, and Smith made their presence felt.

Kowloon Chinese boasted the assistance of Tsui Ah-fai, but he did not give the best account of himself, and seemed to be out of touch with his colleagues.

UNFORTUNATE FUNG

Until his injury Fung King-yue was a brilliant attacker and caused the East Lances a whole heap of trouble. His centres were admirably placed, and Thorpe at right half did not seem to know how to go about stopping this fast winger. But it cannot be said that the rest of the Chinese forwards played well. They did lots of pretty things with the ball, but to no avail, almost invariably over-riding the fancy stuff to permit the soldiers' back to rush in and clear.

After being placed strictly on the defensive for a long period, the East Lances suddenly found themselves in the opposite penalty area and O'Donnell improved the shining hour by shooting through for the first goal. Tukey followed with a second before the interval, but the score was against the run of play.

Both teams missed chances in the latter stages of the game, notably the Chinese, who still showed reluctance to "have a go". There were some exciting goalmouth duels in the last minute or two, when Chiu Man-chi was seen to strike the outside of the net twice in quick succession when well placed.

MONTANA DEFENDING TITLE

San Francisco, Nov. 14. Small Montana flyweight champion of the world will be defending his title against Benny Lynch, the European champion, at the Wembley Stadium, London, before December 18.

The terms of his contract for the fight include a guarantee of $10,000 free of tax and three round-trip tickets to England.

Meanwhile, Montana will fight Star Frisco in a non-title fight at Pismo Beach, California, on November 20.—United Press.

LAI SHUI-WING THE NEW SOUTH CHINA STAR

Brilliant Display

S. China "A" 4 Athletic 0

(Lau Shu-ling &amp; Wong Mee-shun, Tam Kong-pak)

Lai Shui-wing, South China's enormously improved inside right, was the man of this match which tended to be slightly boring owing to the pronounced superiority of the winners.

Lai's deft touches, his skill in beating a complete defence and his brainy creative work was always entertaining and put him in a class of his own. There is little doubt that if Lai continues his present progress he will be the natural successor to Fung King-cheung as the "brains" of the South China attack.

The Caroline Hill team had things practically all their own way in this match. Athletic never looked like staying off defeat. Their forwards could make no headway against a cast-iron defence, and especially the brilliance of Lee Kwok-wai and his co-half backs.

The excitement in this match came from the cleverly staged manoeuvres of Wong Mee-shun, Tam Kong-pak and Lai Shui-wing. They led the Athletic rearguard a merry dance with their pattern weaving. Tam was not so polished as his confreres, but he ran a useful centre-forward, especially when Tay Quan-ling and Tso Kwai-shing were sending across their high centres.

TAN'S GALLANT DEFENCE

Athletic owed practically everything to Tan Kwan-ling in goal that they did not have double figures run up against them. Tan found inspiration in the rather dismal showing of his colleagues, and stepped into the breach every other minute to prevent a goal.

The Athletic half-backs were unable to cope with the elusive South China centre-forward, both Lo Wai-man and Wong Sik-ping were guilty of bad kicking.

Cheung Moon-wing was the only forward who looked capable of threatening the champions' defence, but his single-handed efforts were useless, as such experienced players as Li Tin-sang and Lau Mau. Nevertheless he was a fine worker and it was a pity he received such poor support.

Although they dominated the exchange, South China could only score once in the first half, Tam Kong-pak rounding off a very pretty right wing movement. Thereafter it was all South China, and after Lai Shui-wing had planted on a second goal and Wong Mee-shun a third, Lai proceeded to walk through the opposition and then to send in a searing pile-driver which no goalkeeper could have saved.

RUGBY LEAGUE "SPLIT"

Taken With a Grain of Salt

Rumours of a split—then a denial—and high-flown proposals concerning the formation of a Southern Rugby League should be taken with a pinch of salt.

The alarmist stories put into circulation last week amused rather than annoyed members of the Rugby League Council with whom I discussed the matter. One and all were quite satisfied that the League had fulfilled all its promises in regard to London, writes the News Chronicle rugby correspondent.

They could and would have done more, but their advice was not sought. Official and unofficial warnings from the North were ignored and costly mistakes were committed. Can it be that the misleading statement made last week to the effect that the Council had made a gift to the Newcastle club of £500, instead of having only guaranteed that amount at the bank if a similar amount could be raised locally, has plagued the Sreatham officials?

In the creation of a Southern League, northern experience should be sought. There are possibilities about such a plan, which would be all the better for small beginnings—a junior league similar to the many that exist in Lancashire, Yorkshire and Cumberland at the present time.

Six Matches Open Badminton Season To-night

WHO'S WHO IN THE TEAMS

(By "Veritas")

A programme of six men's doubles matches inaugurates the 1936-37 badminton league season this evening. There are two "A" Division games and four in the "B" Division.

In the senior division Recreio "A" and "B" are conceded best chances of winning, although the second string may have to bow the knee to St. Andrew's who are fairly strong this year. Recreio "B" may find the advantage of playing on their own court just sufficient to pull the game round in their favour. But there won't be much in it.

Recreio "A" have to visit Chinese Recreation Club where the playing conditions are difficult, but it is too much to expect the Chinese to avoid defeat.

Chinese Y.M.C.A., the "dark horse" of the "B" Division make their bow in the league against the Victoria Recreation Club and they will more than likely open with a victory.

King's College, also newcomers, look good for two points from Sailors and Soldiers Home, but Kowloon Tong "B" cannot be expected to hold out against St. John's Cathedral, Kowloon Tong "A", away to St. Andrew's "B", have a fair chance of winning, though the odds are slightly in favour of the Saints.

The following have signified their willingness to play for the various clubs this winter.

CORRESPONDENCE

The Tilden-Vines Dinner Dance

Writing about the notes by "Veritas" concerning the lack of public support for the proposed subscription dinner in honour of Tilden and Vines, "Sag" says:—

Those of us interested in tennis paid our money and saw the displays at the Cricket Club. Why therefore should we be expected to pay $10 for the privilege of seeing Messrs. Tilden and Vines entertained by the officials of the Hongkong Lawn Tennis Association?

It would appear that "Veritas" himself was not sufficiently interested, as he says that "up to yesterday evening not a single booking had been made for the subscription dinner dance."

Personally I, as one of the Hongkong public have attended both of the matches staged, and hope to attend the future games. I feel, however, that even Bill Tilden's personality does not merit the disbursement of ten hard earned dollars (for a dinner dance) which could and will be applied to a better purpose.

I dislike the idea that Bill Tilden should feel the Colony has "decided to cold-shoulder him socially." This may be the opinion of "Veritas" or anybody else who expected the "cock-tails, hor d'oeuvres, excellent dinner with drinks, dancing and further drinks up to a certain time," but I doubt if it is the considered opinion of Messrs. Tilden and Vines.

("Veritas" writes in reply:—The alternative to rating the public for not supporting the subscription dinner dance, is to abuse the Hongkong Lawn Tennis Association for ever-seriously considering that Hongkong would be in the slightest bit interested in such an event. Perhaps that should have been my angle, yet methinks that if the H.K.L.T.A. had made no effort whatever to provide a social programme for the tennis players "SAG" would have been one of the first to condemn the Association for their disregard and breach of good manners. Nevertheless, to clear up any possible misunderstanding it should be made quite clear that what I wrote, on Friday last constituted purely my personal opinion, and was not in any way the voice either of the L.T.A. or Tilden and Vines.)

King's Seer FORETOLD FATE OF RASPUTIN

New York, Nov. 10.

COUNT Louis Hamon, the famous mystic, psychic, and palm reader, who was known by the name of Cheiro, has died here, aged 70.—Reuter.

Cheiro was born in Bray, County Dublin, and christened William John Warner. His father traced the family's descent from the Hamons of Normandy, and William took out by deed poll the name of Count Hamon.

In a book published in 1932 he described his career and recalled that where he started a hand-reading business in London one of his first distinguished visitors was King Edward VII. when Prince of Wales.

Lady Arthur Paget (wrote Cheiro) asked him to receive a mysterious visitor who would thrust his hands through openings in a curtain.

All went well till the fastening pins came out of the curtain, and Cheiro found himself face to face with the heir to the throne.

Then Prince Edward is recorded as saying: "Forget who I am and be as much at your ease as you were before the curtain fell."

FORETOLD HIS DEATH

Cheiro said he worked out numerical details of his royal visitor's life and together they found that the combination of 6 and 9 pointed to "The End." King Edward VII. was aged 69 when he died.

When his coronation was postponed in 1902 on account of illness Queen Alexandra sent for Cheiro to cheer him up.

The seer wrote that he read the hands of the Czar, of Rasputin, for whom he saw "a violent end within a palace," and of Lord Kitchener.

brokers had recently been doing more American than British business.

Financial circles say that foreign speculation in American securities is divided into three classes: (1) French investors who are eager to export their capital for political reasons; (2) American operators buying securities from abroad in order to evade paying United States taxes; (3) London and international gamblers inspired by the belief that the United States is on the threshold of a big industrial boom.

President Roosevelt's statement caused considerable excitement in the London stock market on Saturday.

Meanwhile the shipment of £15,000,000 worth of gold to the United States recently is attracting the serious notice of British bankers and foreign exchange circles. Britain prefers any initiative for correcting the situation to come from the United States due to the belief that any British interference might tend to undermine London's position as the world's monetary centre.—United Press.

PRICES IRREGULAR

New York, Nov. 14.

Prices were irregular on the New York Stock Exchange to-day.

The market rallied smartly after an early decline, although uncertainty continued to prevail over the plans to restrict foreign trading.

In addition, caution was instilled by the reports that charges of manipulation were being brought against several brokers.

There was fairly heavy realising and the market was influenced by the uncertainty in the commodity markets.

PORTUGUESE LAD FALLS FROM WINDOW

Victor Ribeiro, of Fai Yuen Street, Kowloon, was taken to the Kowloon Hospital yesterday suffering from injuries received when he accidentally fell from the kitchen window of his house to the road. His condition is not serious.

A man named Chang Cheung was admitted to the Kowloon Hospital yesterday suffering from the effects of immersion when he either fell or jumped into the harbour from Tung Chow Street Prison in Kowloon.

A coolie, Chin Yun, was admitted to the Government Civil Hospital yesterday suffering from injuries received when he fell into the four-hour from the s.s. Hai Yang, while loading coal.

A 15-year-old boy, Wong Kung, of 9 Hamilton Street, Mongkok, was admitted to the Government Civil Hospital yesterday through injuries received when he fell from a moving tramcar in Wong Nei Chong Road, Happy Valley.

Allegedly attempting to avoid arrest for house-breaking, Ho Tong, unemployed, jumped from the second floor window of Powell's Building and was taken to the Government Civil Hospital for treatment to injuries received.

STREET SLEEPERS REOPENING OF KOWLOON ST. FRANCIS HOME

The President of the Third Order of St. Francis writes:

Plans have been made for the reopening of St. Francis Home for street sleepers, which did such excellent work in Kowloon last winter. The members of the Third Order of St. Francis (Catholic laymen) was run on different lines to most of the shelters for street sleepers, for instead of aiming at giving a place to a large number as possible, it sought to give good accommodation to a limited number but to establish personal contact with all who came.

From the beginning the facilities afforded by the Home were greatly appreciated by the destitute men who came to it, and after a time it became more like a hostel than a shelter as, for the most part, the same men came regularly. Each night some of the members of the Third Order attended the Home, one of them in turn sleeping there, and after a short time they became very friendly with the men and used to talk with them for a long time every evening. The spontaneous gift of some who heard of the work made it possible for the home to supply to men also with some food and drink, and on special occasions it was possible to give them a good meal.

The generous help which was given by the people attending the various Catholic Churches in Hongkong provided the necessary funds for the maintenance of the Home, and the result of the appeal made to them for this purpose was so satisfactory that it is hoped to extend the work this year so that a greater number of men can be accommodated. For this purpose new and more extensive premises will be required, and it is thought that some well-wisher may be able to supply them. If there is any property owner who has vacant premises that can be used for the purpose, or could be adapted to make them suitable, he will confer a very great benefit on the poorest of the Hongkong poor if he puts them at the disposal of the members of the Third Order for the next six months.

The headquarters of the Hongkong Branch is St. Teresa's Church, Kowloon Tong, where the Secretary will be pleased to receive communications. The telephone number is 56217.

The Royal Artillery Association held another big function on Saturday night, when a dance was held at the Hotel Cecil with over 200 people in attendance. The band of the Royal Ulster Rifles supplied the music, by permission of Major H. McL. Morrison and Officers. The hall was suitably decorated, and the Royal Artillery crest bearing the motto, "Ubique" was in prominence at the entrance. Messrs. Trenchard and Percival did well in their duties as masters of ceremony.

ST. JOHN AMBULANCE CHINESE ATHLETIC DIVISION WELCOMES PATRONS

Members of the Chinese Athletic Division of the St. John Ambulance Brigade gave a tea party at the Brigade's headquarters, Tai Hang Road, yesterday, for the purpose of welcoming their new patrons, Mr. Lau King-ling and Mr. Chan Lan-fong.

Speaking in Chinese, Mr. Chan Ping-kwong, Superintendent of the Division, who presided, expressed deep appreciation for the honour done to the Division by Mr. Lau and Mr. Chan in consenting to become its patrons. Mr. Lau and Mr. Chan, he said, were well known for their public works and philanthropies, and he felt therefore that the Division was extremely fortunate in having them as patrons.

Mr. Chan Lan-fong said he felt greatly honoured in having been asked to become a patron of the Chinese Athletic Division of the St. John Ambulance Brigade. The Brigade was at present doing very good work, and although he was a very busy man, it seemed to him that as a citizen he should have a part in it. Similar remarks were made by Mr. Lau King-ling, who added that Mr. Morris, the Director of the Brigade, was formerly a teacher of his, and under the circumstances he felt he should accede to his request to become a patron of the Division.

Others who attended the function were Mr. Yip Lan-chuen, Mr. Wong Yin-ching, Mr. Lau Yuk-man, and Mr. Chan Siu-tong. The band of the Chung Sing Benevolent Society was in attendance and played appropriate music during the function. Mr. Lau King-ling is director of the Tung Wah and Affiliated Hospitals, Chairman of the Tung Yee Tong Educational Institution, which maintains eleven free schools, and Vice-Chairman of the Chung Sing Benevolent Society and the General Chamber of Commerce and Industry of the Tung Kuo District.

Mr. Chan Lan-fong is Chairman of the Confucius Society, the Chung Sing Benevolent Society and the General Chamber of Commerce and Industry of the Tung Kuo District, as well as Vice-Chairman of the Tung Yee Tong Educational Institution.

REBELS BURST INTO MADRID

LOYALISTS' FRONT LINES BEATEN BACK

General Varela's Army Crosses Manzanares UNIVERSITY CITY NOW IN HANDS OF INSURGENTS

Salamanca, Nov. 16.

Three columns of the left flank of General Varela's army have crossed the Manzanares River. They drove across the river at 4 p.m. yesterday and occupied the Government's former positions, according to an official communique from insurgent headquarters.

These three columns continued their advance in the north-west sector of Madrid, which, it was hoped, would be entirely occupied by the end of the night, as "the enemy's resistance has been overcome."

The river was crossed only after the insurgents had met and broken the most determined resistance hitherto encountered from the men of Madrid. It was the resistance of despair, the communique states.—Reuter.

CONTINUING ADVANCE

Seville, Nov. 16.

General Del Lano has broadcast the statement that General Francisco Franco, rebel commander-in-chief, has telephoned him that insurgent troops are continuing their advance and have now begun the occupation of several of Madrid's streets.—Reuter.

University City Occupied

Lisbon, Nov. 16.

It is reported from General Varela's headquarters that his troops have occupied University City and the Government troops are falling back upon the centre of Madrid.—Reuter.

Resistance Broken

Seville, by Radio, Nov. 16.

"Our troops are now entering Madrid, at 10.50 p.m. (Sunday) in various sections, and the enemy are fleeing without resisting."

The first insurgent troops broke through the loyalist lines over the Segovia Bridge.

General Del Lano spoke over the radio at 11 p.m., saying: "I have just talked to General Franco. We are rapidly entering Madrid. The Red batteries are silent. We have already seized most of them."

"Three columns of General Varela's army crossed the Manzanares River at 4 p.m., and using hand bombs, entered the city from the direction of the Casa de Campo. They attacked some of the defence positions with the bayonet."—United Press.

Madrid Still Talking

London, Nov. 16.

Despite the claims of General Del Lano, who has announced from Seville that the rebel troops are entering Madrid, the Government's Madrid radio station is still clearly audible and has made no mention of any rebel entry.—United Press.

Earlier Reports

London, Nov. 15.

While fighting continues over a 10-mile front, the Casa de Campo country remains the chief battleground in the struggle for the capital, according to cables received from Reuter's special correspondent with the insurgent forces.

Three Britons are reported to have been found among the slain after a fierce night battle in Casa de Campo's forest, where 200 militiamen, under cover of darkness, scaled the walls of the park and desperately attacked the insurgent outposts.

The attacking force was annihilated by the rebels, who also sustained severe losses in the fight.

Trained units of the Government militia again attacked Colonel Castenjon's column, which occupies a portion of the Casa de Campo, but the blow was delivered without artillery support and appeared to lack cohesion and determination.

Shanghai Japanese Ask Separate Concession

Shanghai, Nov. 16.

A definite move for the creation of a virtual Japanese concession in Shanghai has been launched by the influential Japanese Residents Association, whose foreign affairs committee has authorised its representatives to take up the matter with the Japanese Consul-General.

The committee proposes the creation of "a special administrators' area," comprising the so-called "extension" or "extra-settlement roads" along the northern boundary of the International Settlement.

Under this proposal a large section of Hongkew and Chapei would pass under Japanese control.

For the past six years the Chinese authorities have been pressing for the control of these "extension" roads, which are at present administered internationally through the Shanghai Municipal Council.—Reuter.

CHINESE REPULSE ATTACKS FIERCE FIGHTING IN NORTH JAPANESE AIR OFFENSIVE

(Special To "Telegraph")

Peiping, Nov. 16.

Chinese reports reaching here state that 3,000 Chahar irregulars, including cavalry, infantry and artillery, fiercely attacked the border town of Hunkuehtu, to the north-east of Taolin yesterday.

The Suiyuan provincial troops, from trenches and block-houses, repulsed six assaults, and the attackers finally withdrew as a snow-storm commenced.

Eight Japanese planes, it is claimed, rained 80 bombs on the Suiyuan positions.

The rumour is spreading that the attacking airforce is preparing to loose gas bombs against the Chinese positions.

Sixty suspicious characters have been arrested on the Peiping-Suiyuan Railway right-of-way. It is believed they intended to dynamite the railroad bridges.

Two armoured trains are patrolling this line.—United Press.

MISSIONARIES SAFE

Peiping, Nov. 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiens, American missionaries, reported to have fallen into the hands of Chinese bandits, have telegraphed that all are safe at Chotzeshan and that there have been no kidnappings.—United Press.

ATTACKERS SUFFER

Peiping, Nov. 16.

Some fighting occurred yesterday in the eastern section of Taolin county, Suiyuan. According to a Chinese report, between 2,000 and 3,000 Mongol cavalry, assisted by aircraft and artillery, attacked Hunkuehtu, but were repulsed by the Suiyuan troops with heavy losses.

A snow-storm raged throughout the operation.—Reuter.

ALL-DAY BATTLE

Shanghai, Nov. 16.

Chinese morning papers state that fighting in eastern Taolin continued all day yesterday.

Mongol volunteers helped the Suiyuan troops repel the invaders who, in the evening, withdrew.—Reuter.

STOP PRESS NEW SOUTH WALES BATS STRONGLY

Sydney, Nov. 16.

The match between New South Wales and the M.C.C. was resumed here this morning, when the home team continued their second innings.

With an overnight score of 122 for 4, New South Wales put on a further 93 runs before lunch, when the score read 216 for 5.

In the first innings, New South Wales scored 237, to which M.C.C. replied with 153.

Later, when the sixth wicket fell to-day, the score was 247 runs.—Reuter.

At the tea interval, New South Wales were all out for 326.—Reuter.

Revealing Strength Of Strike

SEAMEN SAY 25,000 IN WALK-OUT

New York, Nov. 15.

The International Seamen's Union, the shipowners and the insurgents all announce that the strength of the insurgent strike will be revealed on Monday, when the crew of the s.s. Washington will be asked to strike.

At present, the insurgents claim that there are already 112 of the 530 members of the crew who are ready to strike.

Meanwhile, the insurgents state that 275 ships are tied up, affecting 25,000 seamen, while the shipowners claim that week-end shipping is practically normal, 48 ships having departed from New York in the past forty-eight hours.

On the other hand, Mr. P. A. S. Franklin, Chairman of the Board of the International Mercantile Marine Company, states that "the strike has ruined the entire business of the Pacific Coast and has practically tied up all the trans-Atlantic fleet." He has asked for Federal intervention in the dispute.—United Press.

Hongkong will have three new issues of postage in the next five years. The Coronation issue will be withdrawn, and will be replaced by an issue that will be similar to that issued during the reign of Queen Victoria. A third issue will probably be made in 1941 for the Centenary.—Page 7.

RUSSIA AGAIN ACCUSED SENDING TROOPS INTO SPAIN CONSTANZA REPORTS

Berlin, Nov. 16.

Fresh German efforts in London to initiate effective control of armaments shipments to Spain are regarded as probable in view of the delay of the insurgents before Madrid and the many reports of Russian arms and munitions shipments to the Government forces.

To this assistance from Russia, newspapers are attributing General Francisco Franco's recent lack of success.

The Voelkische Beobachter, for example, features a report from Constanza, that strong detachments of first class Soviet troops left Odessa on Friday for Spain in armoured auxiliary cruisers.

There is no disposition to link the Spanish question with the talks Herr Adolf Hitler, the Chancellor, has had with his army and other chiefs during the past few days. These conferences are believed to have been quite general in character.—Reuter.

Sino-Japanese Conversations NEW CONFERENCE IN NANKING SOON

Nanking, Nov. 16.

Another meeting between Mr. Chang Chun, the Chinese Foreign Minister, and Mr. Shigeru Kawagoe, the Japanese Ambassador, is expected this week, although the prospects of an early solution of the Sino-Japanese differences remain practically negligible.

Further conversations between the Japanese Consul-General here and Mr. Kao Tsung-wu, chief of the Asiatic Affairs Bureau of the Chinese Foreign Office, to review the Sino-Japanese viewpoints, disclosed they were as divergent as before the last Chang Chun-Kawagoe meeting on November 10.

However, well-informed quarters believe that despite this lack of agreement negotiations will likely drag on without a definite rupture.—Reuter.

DYSENTERY APPARENTLY ON THE WANE

But Epidemic has Made Appearance in Canton

The epidemic of dysentery which struck terror into the hearts of Hongkong mothers, is, the local Health authorities believe, commencing to wane. No deaths have been reported in Hongkong since Saturday.

But, according to reports received by the Telegraph this morning, the scourge has now spread to Canton, where at least one European child is stated to be ill.

Prayers were offered yesterday in St. John's Cathedral and other churches for the safety of Hongkong young ones.

Shortly before, a tragic ceremony was being enacted at sea a few miles from the Colony. Carrying two small, white coffins, the naval tugboat St. Monance steamed slowly out of the harbour and when almost out of sight of land stopped its engines, while a funeral service was read by the Rev. Mr. Evans and Rev. Mr. Parker.

CZECHS FEAR FOR TREATY

Paris, Nov. 15.

The Foreign Office has instructed the representatives of 16 interested countries to confer with officials on the possibility of strongly protesting against Herr Adolf Hitler's latest violation of the Versailles Treaty, the abrogating of the clause governing the internationalisation of navigable rivers.

Meanwhile, officials privately admit it is likely impossible to bring pressure upon Germany to force her to rescind this decision and there is no plan to attempt sanctions due to "red tape" having prevented such action in the Rhineland crisis.

Thus far, France has taken the only possible reprisal, and has denounced the temporary arrangement regarding the Rhineland.

Authoritative quarters attribute Herr Hitler's act, firstly, to a desire to save the political truce with a palliative for the economic degradation and resultant food shortages; secondly, to furnish himself with a powerful weapon for future negotiations with Czechoslovakia, since 80 per cent. of the Czech imports come via Hamburg, Bremen and Stettin.

TREATY THREATENED

The German-Czech treaty of 1922 pledges Germany never to use the free ports weapon in a political way. To-day Prague advised Paris that Herr Hitler had assured the Czechs that transit privileges would be unchanged "until further notice." The Czechs regard this reservation as ominous.

Despite Germany's most recent affront to French dignity, some officials here favour improving Franco-German relations, and the Chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Chamber, M. Jean Mistler, declares: "Our foreign policy must be based on Anglo-French friendship but must have the objective of a better Franco-German understanding."—United Press.

ACTRESS WEDS

Newport, R.I., Nov. 16.

The screen actress, Miss Margaret Sullivan, to-day was married to Mr. Leland Hayward, theatrical and literary agent.—United Press.

Rebels Renew Bombardment Of Madrid

Madrid, Nov. 16.

Last night the insurgents resumed the bombardment of Madrid.

A number of shrapnel shells exploded over the city's central districts and the buildings were sprayed with grapeshot.

Three six-inch shells fell near the Cortes.

The militiamen have blown up the French bridge, according to an official communique, owing to the pressure from the rebel attack at this point.—Reuter.

Are You Going to a PARTY?

By Susan Gay

THE telephone rings and you are invited by Elizabeth to come and drink a cocktail with Bill, who is passing through to Shanghai on his way back from leave. Some body else decides that a bridge party on the verandah followed by a buffet supper would be an excellent way of getting fresh air without troublesome exercise. Or Philip calls with car and suggests making up a foursome and driving down to Repulse Bay for supper and a dance or two.

For such impromptu excitements one's dress need not be elaborate. A pretty little afternoon frock is all that is necessary.

THE pattern sketched here, would be excellent for such purposes. It is dressy without being fussy, simple without being severe.

If you are inclined to be a bit short and stumpy I suggest you should make it in the first style in the illustration. The inverted tucks that run down for a few inches from the front of the neckline accentuate the centre front panels in the skirt and help to give an illusion of height. The ruffled sleeve-tops, too, allow graceful fullness to the sleeves without giving that balloon-like appearance that full sleeves so often give to stocky women.

MAKE it of plain georgette, a fabric that is becoming to all women. And if you want to be very smart make it of that new light rusty shade that seems to be a cross between tomato and orange. And wear a dark jade brooch and buckle.

The second version of this pattern is shown made up in flowered crepe de Chine. Here the bodice is cut without the centre fullness of the other design.

The white flowers in the red, green and white patterned material are emphasised by the white georgette collar that softens the high square neckline.

The fullness of the short, set-in-sleeves is gathered under a tab of the prettily-shaped sleeve band.

If you choose colours that blend or contrast with any light-weight coat that you may already have the two garments will make an excellent ensemble to carry you through the autumn.

Cooking on Skewers

By Ambrose Heath

RATHER more than five years ago my first article on cooking was published in the New Chronicle. We had been to the pictures and had seen on the screen a young Cossack eating some elaborate dish of skewered meats, and it seemed an amusing subject for an article.

The other day we motored past some campers in the New Forest. They were cooking their evening meal at a camp fire—on skewers! It is a most attractive way to serve meat, and fish too, and as it originates in the East it is very likely an elaboration of the old camp-fire cooking. It is very simple, but it is rather exciting; not, mind you, only by the fireside, but dainty little silver-plated skewers with exciting-looking pieces of meat, etc., impaled on them make an original meal for any wise hostess with which to surprise her friends.

Kebabs
In the East these skewered meats were called Kebabs or Kabobs (the spelling varies), and they are always pieces of meat alternating with vegetable or fruit on the skewer, more often grilled, often baked and sometimes fried.

The skewers must be thin and about six to eight inches long. They may either be wooden ones, or just ordinary metal ones, or silver-plated or silver.

For example, cut some raw mutton or beef into little square pieces about an inch and a half sides and about an inch thick. Next to the piece of meat put a piece of onion, next to that a slice of tomato or apple, then meat again, and so on.

When you have enough on the skewer, salt and pepper it and perhaps sprinkle over a little mixed herbs, pour over a little melted butter and grill or bake in the oven.

Or you can add half a kidney, say, a piece of mutton, half a kidney, a piece of bacon, and so on. Another way is to have the pieces of mutton or lamb cut ready, with the pieces of bacon and onion, and to let them remain for an hour before they are cooked, sprinkled with curry powder, salt, pepper and a little ground ginger. They are then impaled, brushed over with butter and baked.

Brochettes de Rogitons
THESE Eastern Kebabs are usually served with a palaf rice, which is ordinary rice cooked in stock and seasoned with savoury spices. The skewers are served with the meat on them, and when the rice has been helped on to the plate the pieces of meat, etc., piece of meat put a piece of onion, next to that a slice of tomato or apple, then meat again, and so on.

When you have enough on the skewer, salt and pepper it and perhaps sprinkle over a little mixed herbs, pour over a little melted butter and grill or bake in the oven.

Or you can add half a kidney, say, a piece of mutton, half a kidney, a piece of bacon, and so on. Another way is to have the pieces of mutton or lamb cut ready, with the pieces of bacon and onion, and to let them remain for an hour before they are cooked, sprinkled with curry powder, salt, pepper and a little ground ginger. They are then impaled, brushed over with butter and baked.

Skewered Fish
FISH can be skewered too. Another Continental dish is brochettes of salt cod. Here the pieces of cod are impaled with slices of tomato, and the whole is grilled or baked in the oven, with plentiful basting of butter or olive oil.

But pieces of lobster, skewered between slices of mushroom, egg, and breadcrumbed and then fried in deep fat make a delicious dish, and I have even come across a skewer dish of mushrooms alone, with one piece of stale bread between every two slices of mushroom. These are then liberally anointed with butter and slowly grilled, being served afterwards with melted butter into which you have squeezed a little lemon juice.

You will have to be careful in grilling not to get your bits of meat overdone. Some people like to stick the skewer at first in the flames for a second or two, as it gives a pleasant burnt taste to the meat. If you bake your skewers, put them in the oven on a grid or hang them from the top.

NORMA SHEARER FEARS SHE WILL NEVER ACT AGAIN

Hollywood, Nov. 5.

GLAMOROUS NORMA SHEARER, recovering in her Californian home after a secret fight against bronchial pneumonia—the illness that recently killed her producer husband, Irving Thalberg—has revealed to her friends a premonition that she will never act for the films again.

The Juliet of millionaire Thalberg's last production has fought so courageously against her illness that her temperature has now dropped to normal for the first time for a fortnight.

Husband's Illness

It was the strain of her husband's last illness that undermined her health—wearing hours at his bedside, then the shock of his death.

She was so run down that when she caught cold it almost immediately turned to pneumonia. Dr. V. R. Mason ordered her children, Irving, aged four, and Katherine, aged one, to be kept away from their mother because of the danger of their being infected. To-day her children were admitted to her room again for the first time, just for a few minutes.

MYSTERY 'PHONE CALL TO LONDON LAWYER

WHERE are Freddie Bartholomew's parents? What has happened to them?

These questions are being asked with considerable anxiety by relatives and friends of the British boy film star's father and mother. Their anxiety arises from the fact that the recent movements of Mr. and Mrs. Bartholomew are a complete mystery.

More than a month ago they left Hollywood to return to London via Mexico. Their two little daughters, Eileen and Hilda, who are in a convent in London, received a postcard from them shortly afterwards.

It was dated from Mexico, and told the children their parents were on their way to London, and would be seeing them soon.

THE LAST TRACE

The lawyer who has acted for the Bartholomews in New York expected a visit from them on their homeward journey, but they did not appear, and he has not heard from them.

Last week a telephone call was received at the London office of Mr. Albert Fletcher, the solicitor who has acted for Mr. Bartholomew on this side, and who was given power of attorney on behalf of the two children, Eileen and Hilda.

The telephone call purported to come from Cecil Llewellyn Bartholomew, Freddie's father, and the caller promised to visit the office, but Mr. Bartholomew has not called in person, and no further message has been received.

At the Canadian Pension Office where Mr. Bartholomew is paid a year disability allowance it was stated that he called one day last month to collect pension money, but it was not then available.

This was after the telephone call to Mr. Fletcher, and the last trace his friends can find of Mr. Bartholomew.

At the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries, where he has been for some years employed as a clerk, nothing is known of his recent movements. He was granted leave of absence to visit America, but this leave expired on October 8.

His relatives and friends, including those who helped to finance that journey to America, which he made with the object of settling the problem of Freddie's guardianship, are naturally anxious as to the health and safety of the parents who have so mysteriously disappeared.

CHILDREN'S FUTURE

Mr. Fletcher and other friends have matters of immediate importance to discuss with Mr. Bartholomew.

Not least of these is the question of the future maintenance and welfare of the two girls, Eileen and Hilda, who seem to be temporarily orphaned and are anxiously inquiring, "What has happened to Mummy and Dad?"

£100 A MONTH

UNDER the settlement of Freddie Bartholomew's affairs, the boy star will receive in trust 50 per cent. of his earnings, estimated at £225 a week.

Of this his parents are to receive £100 a month.

"BLACK ARTS IN FASHION AGAIN"

Mr. MacDonald
Says So

Edinburgh, Nov. 10.

THAT young men and women are believing more and more in the black arts—magic and witchcraft—was asserted by Mr. Ramsay MacDonald when he spoke here this afternoon before a gathering of some of the most distinguished scholars in Scotland.

Mr. MacDonald, who was opening a reconstructed Church of Scotland college library, referred to the books on the black arts which the library possesses and questioned where they were obtained.

"Did the people who presented them have a pre-vision of these days," he asked. "I am told that the black arts are getting more popular to-day than ever on account of a wave of extraordinary credulity among young and up-to-date people, who are turning more and more towards it."

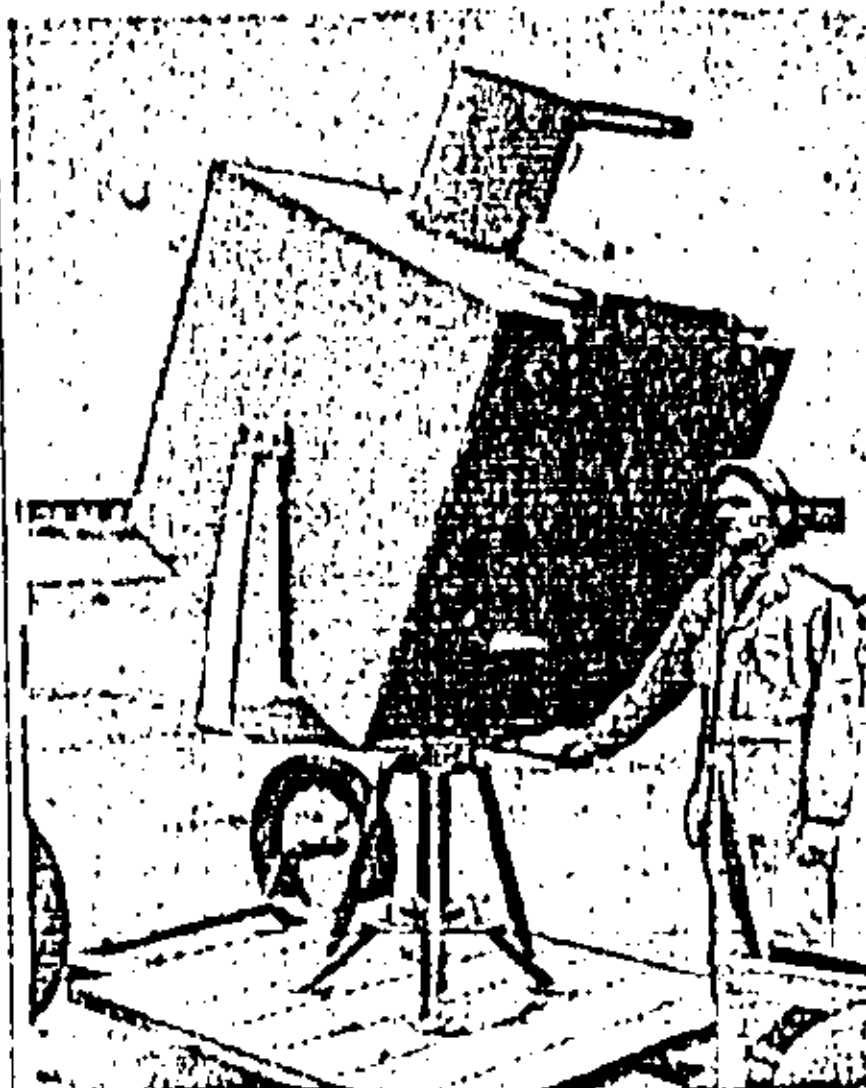

The books to which Mr. MacDonald referred form a collection of nearly 300 volumes. Classified in the section of the library devoted to "demonology and spiritualism," they include a variety of works on the occult sciences ranging from the early 17th-century books of the Satanists to more modern volumes on hypnotism and spiritualism.

"STAMPED OUT"

They were presented to the library many years ago from an unknown source.

Views expressed afterwards about Mr. MacDonald's statement were: The Rev. D. A. Mitchell Hunter, the librarian: "I do not think the black arts are practised in Scotland to-day."

The Rev. Dr. James Harvey, principal clerk to the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland: "Some of the highfalutin set seem inclined to dabble in the black arts in a very amateurish sort of way. But black arts, as they were formerly known, have been stamped out in Scotland, though there is still much superstition in the Highlands."

This giant camera obscura is employed by the American Air Force to photograph bombers in order to mark their position in the air.

Madman's Seven Murders

Marseilles, Nov. 8.

Armed with two rifles a demented youth is roaming the forests and gorges of the Basses Alpes, after having shot seven persons dead.

The gendarmerie of Saint Etienne des Orgues and Forcalquier are searching the district where he is believed to be, while the terrified inhabitants of this wild mountain region have barred their doors and shuttered their windows.

The youth, who is aged eighteen, went mad yesterday afternoon, and after having shot down the five-year-old son of a woodcutter, he then shot dead the woodcutter himself, and finally the woodcutter's wife and two little girls who ran to the woodcutter's assistance.

The youth then walked off, and after some hours spied a young shepherd named Pascal watching his flock in the dusk with a gun beside him. He killed Pascal with the first shot, picked up the shepherd's gun and ammunition, and continued his journey through the forest, armed with two guns.

He killed his seventh victim to-day, another shepherd, named Paul Muggiani.

The district is some forty miles northwest of the region where terror has widespread some two years ago following the exploits of the "killer of the Var," who was guillotined last February for four murders.—Reuter.

LAW DEGREE FOR DUKE OF KENT

After a short tour of the colleges last month the Duke of Kent received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws at St. Andrew's University. He was entertained by the University at lunch, and left immediately afterwards for Leuchars Aerodrome, whence he flew to an engagement in the South.

Don't Neglect Rheumatism!

Little Twinges Develop Into Big Pains And Crippling Disease.

Rheumatism usually asserts itself first in small ways—by occasional aching pains, or by cramps in the joints and muscles. Later the spasms become more frequent, intense and prolonged, and the sufferer dreads damp or cold weather as being certain to bring on an attack. If neglected, rheumatism is liable to develop into disabling, and ultimately fatal, disease.

Whilst the precise causes of rheumatism are still uncertain, there is positive evidence that it is a malady of the blood, and that tonic treatment through the blood is the right treatment to bring about relief and cure. This explains why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved so remarkably successful as a remedy for rheumatism in all its forms and even in its most severe and chronic stages.

These pills are pre-eminently a Blood Tonic; they purify and enrich the blood with iron nutriment, and by rapidly increasing the red corpuscles they may be said to actually make new blood. And at the same time they strengthen the nerves, aid digestion, increase the appetite and build up the whole system.

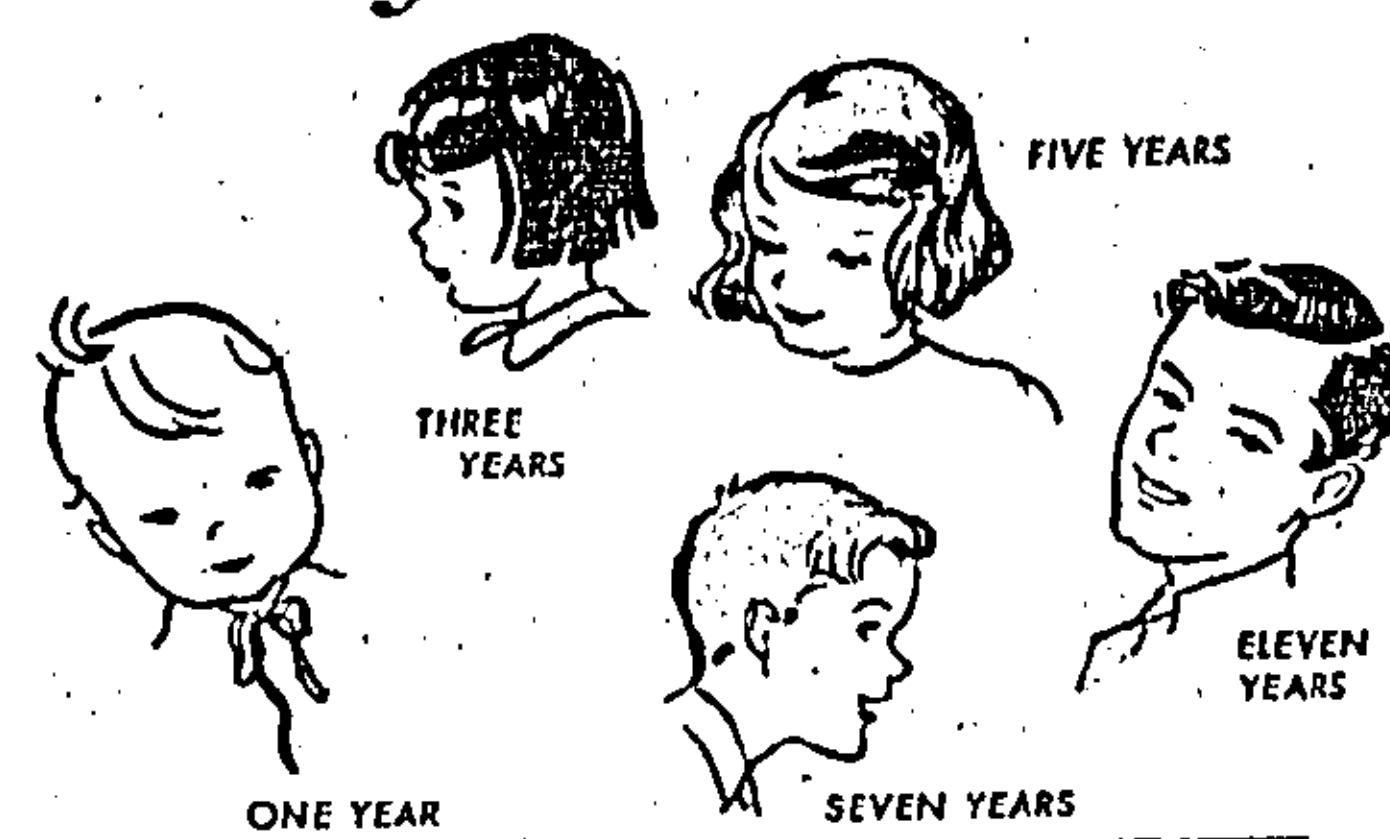

From chemists everywhere, but refuse substitutes and insist on having Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

How Old is your Child?

If your child is under eleven—be careful what laxative you give him! He should have a special laxative—a child's laxative.

For adult laxatives are often too harsh for a child's sensitive system. They may cause him griping pain or an upset digestion. It may be difficult to get a child to take a bad-tasting medicine.

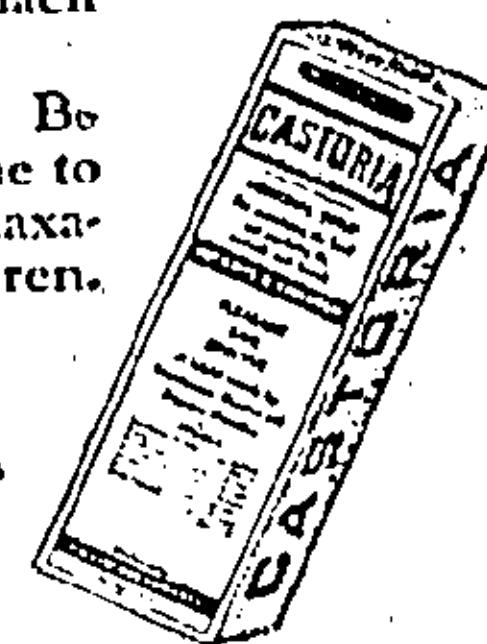

But such things need not be. For there is one laxative that is perfect for children... Castoria! Castoria is made especially for children—from babyhood to eleven years. You can give it to your child with confidence. Castoria is gentle—yet thorough. It contains no castor oil, no harmful habit-forming ingredients. And children love its "candy" taste!

In more than 5,000,000 American homes, mothers give their children Castoria for constipation, colic due to gas, upset stomach and the first symptoms of a cold.

20-Years Pose as War "Widow"

FRAUDS totalling £2,611 on the Ministry of Pensions were disclosed at Westminster Police Court when it was stated that the wife of an Army sergeant—who was presumed to have been killed in 1917, but who, in fact, deserted—had been drawing a widow's pension for nearly 20 years while living with her husband.

Ethel Ada McDermott, aged 52, and Francis Joseph McDermott, aged 49, jointly employed as manageress and manager at a Chancery-lane licensed restaurant, were each sentenced to six months in the second division.

Mrs. McDermott pleaded guilty to obtaining three sums of £2 10s. 10d. by false pretences from the Ministry, and her husband to aiding and abetting.

It was alleged that the woman had been granted an additional £5 for mourning.

Mr. C. J. F. Gwailin, prosecuting, said that in January 1917 McDermott was serving in France as a sergeant in the Royal Irish Rifles. On January 17 he disappeared and was posted as a deserter. Later that order was rescinded and Mrs. McDermott was granted a pension with effect from October 14, 1919, in respect to the death of her husband on active service.

When challenged after recent inquiries McDermott made a signed statement in which he said:

"In January 1917 I was blown up by a shell and the next thing I knew was that I was in a ship in which I reached England. I found my wife after I had been here about three months, and we have lived together since."

Mrs. McDermott, in her statement, said: "I was almost forced into applying for a pension by a woman at Crowborough, and having got it, I did not know what to do."

"If I had given it up I should have been asked the reason, and that would have meant 'the death' of my husband."

"I would have done anything short of losing my husband to have dropped the whole thing."

Mr. Norman Forster, defending, said that in the early stages Mrs. McDermott was quite properly in receipt of the pension.

The husband now desired to accept full responsibility.

NOTICE

THE EIGHTEENTH ORDINARY YEARLY MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS will be held at the Head Office of the Company, St. George's Building, Chater Road, Victoria, Hong Kong, on Monday, 21st December, 1936, at 12 o'clock (Noon), for the purpose of receiving a Statement of Accounts and the Report of the Directors for the financial year ended 30th September, 1936, and electing Directors and Auditors.

The Transfer Books of the Company will be closed from Saturday, 28th November, 1936, till Monday, 21st December, 1936, both days inclusive.

By Order of the Board of Directors,

NOEL BRAGA,

Secretary
Hongkong, 13th November, 1936.

Kowloon Godowns, on November 14, and (b) boarding the Neptune on Nov. 14 without permission of the owners.

Det-Sgt. Haynes stated that defendant was found on board the vessel by Choi Lee, 45, watchman, who caught him in the act of wrapping the chain around his waist. The chain was valued at $3.

His Worship fined defendant $5 or two weeks. On the second charge, a letter from the Chief Officer was produced which stated that defendant had no right to be on the ship. A similar sentence was passed on this charge, to be served consecutively.

Sir,—While the Colony's health is to the fore, why can nothing be done about Central Market?

As one who braves the horrors of the place two or three times every week, I think it is high-time someone took an interest in the place where most of the Colony's food comes from. No one, by any stretch of imagination, can call it sanitary.

Promises Well

More than ever will leading firms concentrate on advertising in the "South China Morning Post" and "The Hongkong Telegraph" during 1937.

One progressive House will use a minimum of 20,000 single column inches between the two newspapers.

Others vary from 15,000 to 10,000 single column inches per annum.

This heavy support of the advertisement columns of the 'Post' and 'Telegraph' is proof of the consistent value offered.

The rates represent the most economical form of appeal to the majority of the purchasing classes.

REBELS BURST INTO MADRID

ever, and forced the insurgents back to their own lines. It is unofficially claimed that three tanks fell into the hands of the Government soldiery. —Reuter.

Fighting Around Getafe

Rabat, Nov. 15. The admission that fighting has occurred in the vicinity of Getafe is contained in a cable which states that a force of Catalan and Tunisian troops, using the most up-to-date Russian equipment, attacked Getafe on the right hand side, from behind the Hill of Angels, but was repulsed with heavy losses.

"Our tanks ravaged the enemy ranks and the survivors fled for Madrid, pursued by our aircraft." —Reuter Special.

Caballero Directing

Valencia, Nov. 15. A communique issued to-day after a Cabinet meeting here reveals that Senor Largo Caballero personally supervised the arrangements for the Government's counter-offensive during his visit to the capital last week. The Prime Minister returned to Valencia after the offensive had started, but the Ministers of Justice and Commerce have remained in Madrid. —Reuter Special.

Bridge Destroyed

Madrid, Nov. 15. The loyalists have dynamited Frenchman's Bridge, a climax of a day in which three rebel bombers killed 60 and wounded 100.

The Government announces the capture of several tanks which supported the last infantry charge on Frenchman's Bridge, in which no insurgent succeeded in making a crossing.

Other bridges have been prepared for dynamiting. The Government says two bombers have been shot down. This correspondent saw one of them plunge in flames. One bomb fell near the North Station and did considerable damage. One hit the Moncloa Barracks and others dropped in the Cuatro Caminos Section and killed 40.

University City, too, was heavily bombed. One building was destroyed, burying several persons, and others are now engaged in the work of rescue. Another bomb crashed near the model prison, killing and wounding several.

An eye-witness says: When the planes appeared, people hid themselves flat on the ground. Three explosions shook the buildings for several blocks.

"I rose and saw the mangled bodies lying in pools of blood around me."

The downtown sections suffered the worst casualties. One bomb hit in the midst of a crowd in the Glorieta Cafe.

An artillery bombardment accompanied the aerial attack, but no one was killed by the shells. —United Press.

High Road Toll in America

60 PER CENT. OF ALL INJURIES

New York, Nov. 10.

Sixty per cent. of all injuries sustained in this country are due to transport, stated Dr. John J. Moorhead, Professor of clinical surgery, at the New York Postgraduate Medical School, addressing the New York Academy of Medicine.

Next in order come industrial accidents, which account for 20 per cent. of the injuries. Ten per cent. can be traced to the ordinary hazards of everyday life, and the remaining ten per cent. to sports, miscellaneous sources and self-inflicted hurts.

Motor-cars, naturally, outstrip other means of transport in their responsibility for accidents, according to Dr. Moorhead, who said "Motor injuries have created new types of injury hitherto wholly unknown, and indeed they have made many of the rare types of injury exceedingly common. A factor of increasing importance is the aeroplane, and it is already looming large on the horizon of traumatology."

He said that as a result of the motor and aeroplane disasters in the most remote hamlets must be prepared at any time to cope with surgical situaions of "extreme gravity," since the first treatment of the injury may determine the outcome of the case.

HAZARDS OF FOOTBALL

He spoke of the first six hours after accidents as the "golden period" when cuts and fractures can be treated with the minimum danger of complications.

Discussing accidents in sports, Dr. M. A. L. Stevens, himself a football coach as well as an orthopaedic surgeon, said that football (an Americanised form of Rugby) was the most hazardous sport, causing 87.9 accidents in 1,000 cases, followed by polo, 11.2; wrestling, 11.1; lacrosse, 9.3; Association football, 6.1; rowing, 5.3; and boxing, 4.6. Despite the hazardous nature of football, Dr. Stevens said, the mortality among its players is lower than among non-athletes in colleges.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed Feeling—You Could Push a Bus Feeling—The liver should pour out two pints of bile into the small intestine daily. If bile is not flowing freely your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink. Bile, like any drink, is palatable, laxative and harsh purgatives are make-believe. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes the famous, sure acting Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pints of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the same Carter's on the red package.

CINEMA NOTES

There is good strong screen fare on the bill at the King's Theatre to-day with all the ingredients that combine for popularity. "His Brother's Wife," produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer with W. S. Van Dyke directing, brings Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Taylor to the screen in a spectacular romance. That alone is of striking significance. Jean Harlow is featured as a venturer in the far and dangerous places of the tropical jungle. Joseph Cullen scores in another of his suave bad-man roles. Van Dyke's tradition is superb. Of all the competent directors in Hollywood, none could have moulded this material so artfully as Van Dyke, with his knowledge of the jungle from personal experience and likewise his familiarity with human emotions. The daring story of a young scientist who ventures into the jungle to find the cure for a dreaded malarial and returns to the realisation that the woman he loves is his brother's wife, provides a dramatic vehicle for these distinguished stars. The audience last night attested with enthusiasm to the popularity of Robert Taylor and demonstrated beyond doubt their approval of an unusually fine picture.

"Mary of Scotland" A vivid chapter of historic drama depicting the colourful and tempestuous career of Mary Stuart is brought to the screen with lavish pungent realism in "Mary of Scotland" co-starring Katharine Hepburn and Freddie March. The hectic life of this native young girl Mary Stuart, who suddenly finds herself transplanted from the luxurious warmth of the French court into turbulent Scotland, its warring factions, its ugly poverty, its religious strife, its unscrupulous intrigue, has lent itself admirably to spectacular reproduction on the screen. Miss Hepburn finds her greatest role in the delineation of the glamorous Scottish queen's character. She is appealingly simple as the girl queen romping with her playmates, the four Marys. She is poignantly alluring in the love scenes with the gallant Bothwell, played by March. She commands your admiration when, clutching with the connny Queen Elizabeth both played by the vibrant Florence Eldridge. And she squeezes tears from your heart in the fleeting moments before her tragic execution. Freddie March is masterful as the Earl of Bothwell, presenting the most convincing performance of his successful career. He is the virile lover who made a queen forget her throne, her pride and future to bask in his affections. Mary Stuart's conflict with the treacherous Scottish lords; her marriage to her cousin, Lord Darnley, played by the able Douglas Walton, the murder of her secretary David Rizzio (John Carradine); Mary's romance with, and marriage to Bothwell; her flight to England, her long feud with Elizabeth, and finally her execution, are highlights of this thrilling, gripping picture. John Ford as director has brought the barbaric flavour of 16th century Scotland convincingly to the screen. The film is showing simultaneously at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres to-day.

"The Suicide Club" Robert Louis Stevenson's fictional adventure on the screen proves as fascinating as it is in type. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has based "Trouble for Two" on the exciting Stevenson story. "The Suicide Club." With Robert Montgomery and Rosalind Russell in the starring roles, the picture opened an engagement of two days at the Majestic Theatre last night. In the supporting cast are Frank Morgan, recently accorded distinction for his work in M-G-M's "The Great Ziegfeld."

Owen, another featured player in the same picture: Louis Hayward, E. E. Clive, Robert Greig and others. The direction by J. Walter Ruben is faithful to the Stevenson narrative for, yet at the same time, attention to the subtleties of the drama. Ruben is the man who directed "Public Hero," "Riffraff" and many other screen triumphs.

SHOPLIFTER GAOLED

Two young women, Cheng Kan, aged 17, widow, and Chan Kam, aged 28, married woman, were brought before Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy this morning, charged with the theft of half-a-pound of "Beehive" brand wool from the China Emporium.

First defendant denied she had taken part in the theft, but second accused pleaded guilty. These pleas were accepted by Detective-Sergeant Davis, and first defendant was accordingly discharged.

Sergeant Davies said that the complainant, Lau Shi-yun, a salesman employed in the wool department of the China Emporium. About 3.40 p.m. yesterday, first defendant went up to complainant's counter and looked at the stock of wool. She was there for such a long time that the salesman was suspicious and kept an eye on her. Defendant then left, but returned ten minutes later with second defendant, and both women again approached the wool department counter.

First defendant asked complainant the price of a baby's jacket and was told it would be $2.50. She commenced bargaining, and offered $1.50. While she was thus keeping the salesman engaged, second defendant went up to where the wool was kept, and took up the half-pound, which she stuffed under the jacket of a small child she was carrying. The salesman, however, saw this, and had both women arrested. The stolen wool was worth $1.58.

Second defendant was fined $10, or one month's imprisonment.

IGNORING THE REALITIES

Although still treading a lonely furrow, in the sense that he commands no large political following, Mr. Lloyd George every now and then looms in the news, but his declarations on domestic and international affairs become increasingly difficult to follow. Of late, the only consistency he has shown has been in his general condemnation of the policies of the Government, no matter what the particular sphere may be. He has come into prominence latterly as a pacifist condemning "the mad race in armaments," as he glibly describes the Government's efforts to make its defences adequate to the demands which at any moment may be made upon them by a world full of menace. It is true that in the Boer War, Mr. Lloyd George was a pacifist, and a not particularly popular one. But the Great War found him eventually in a very different role—namely, the spearhead of Allied victory. No one knows better than Mr. Lloyd George how the country and the Allied cause suffered through lack of preparedness and through difficulty in accelerating the output of guns and munitions. In many passages of his many-volumed history of the Great War Mr. Lloyd George has told us all about it, and incidentally claimed for himself a greater degree of prescience than any of his contemporaries, civil, military, or naval. Surely, then, if the necessity for Britain's being prepared to defend itself should be clear to any person more than another, that person is Mr. Lloyd George. But we found him recently sending a message to the Pacifist candidate in a by-election, wishing him success and condemning the Government's efforts to make up arrears of armaments. It would, perhaps, be too much to say that Mr. Lloyd George is more concerned to discredit the Government than to see the country

The MINISTER of HEALTH explains how

The Government Plans a FITTER BRITAIN

By

The Rt. Hon.
SIR KINGSLEY WOOD,
P.C., M.P.20,000,000 weeks of work
were lost in a single year
among the insured population—much is preventable.Much more, also, might be done to help those who, though they are in no sense ill, are not so fit as they should be to attain and maintain full physical vigour.What, then, is the action to be taken?

In a Haphazard Way

FIRST, let me say a word about the prevention of disease. Our health services, which began with preventive measures designed to protect the community from such dangers as faulty drainage and contaminated water supplies, and have now been extended to include elaborate provision for the health care of individuals at all stages of life, have grown up, as things are apt to grow in this country, in a rather haphazard way.

Since the present Government took office it has been our policy to do all that is possible to complete the health services and build up a comprehensive system for the health care of the people. A beginning has already been made.

When They Leave School

THE Midwives Act which became law a few months ago filled one gap—and a very important one it was—by ensuring that no mother shall lack at the time of her confinement the services of a fully qualified midwife.

Class-Room Comedy

THE return of the scholars to school reminds us of the never-fading humour of the average British schoolboy. His "howlers" have been the delight of his friends and the despair of his instructors. Here are a few.

"Charles I. was going to marry the Infanta of Spain. He went to see her, and Shakespeare says he never smiled again."

"After nineteen years in prison Mary Queen of Scots was executed, and remained as beautiful as when she was young."

"Clive imprisoned 146 men in the Black Hole of Calcutta, and so laid the foundations of our Indian Empire."

A class was told to write a short essay on "The Funniest Thing I Ever Saw." One boy soon did it. He wrote: "The funniest thing I ever saw was too funny for words."

A country teacher had to smile when she saw in one of her pupils' exercise books—"A smock is a sort of nightshirt worn by country men in England during the day."

"Well, Johnnie," said uncle, "and how do you like going to school?" "Oh! I don't mind going to school, Uncle, or coming home from school, but the time in between bores me stiff."

"Daddy," said little Willie, "our teacher says that the world is round. If it is, and I wanted to go east, I could get there by going west, couldn't I?" "Yes, my son. Loosh! But you'll sure be a taxi-driver when you grow up."

"If a train is travelling," said the headmaster to the senior class, "from Inverness to Edinburgh at 60 miles an hour, another is going from Edinburgh to Inverness at 40 miles an hour, where will they pass each other?" "At the same place, sir!" said the bright boy.

A few more historical "facts"—"The British Constitution is perfectly sound, but owing to its insolent position it suffers from fog."

Bunyan was the inventor of the Presbyterian religion, and he wrote "The Pilgrim's Progress."

The arithmetic lesson often provides some funny answers.

"Why do you always add up wrongly in your home work?" the teacher asked. Tommie shook his head.

"Anyone help you?" she queried. "Yes—my father." "Oh, and what is he?" "He's a waiter, teacher," said Tommie.

Soon after the new milk scheme had started wee Georgie was working out his sum with great patience. Then he looked up. "Please, teacher, when am I gettin' ma milk?" he asked. "You'll get your milk, Georgie, when you've done your sum." "Please, teacher," he said pouting, "it'll be soon."

"Wolsey saved his life by dying on the way to London where he was to be executed," we are informed.

"The inflammability of the Pope was proclaimed in the Vatican decrees."

"The tractor can plough six boroughs in the time a horse takes to do one."

A schoolmistress was describing to her class of small boys the different races of mankind. "The world is a vast area," she explained, "and the various tribes—"

She paused and eyed the wee laddie who could pay attention to nothing but "boobs." "Well, Bobbie," she said to him, "will you tell the class which is the greatest race in the world?" "Yes, miss," he replied. "The Musselburgh Stakes."

The youngest of the family was about to commence his education when a visitor to the house asked him—"And when are you going to school, Kenzie?" "Oh, I'm not going to school," answered the young hopeful. "I'm going to Heriot's!"

Another small boy had just completed his first year, and mother was celebrating the event with a little tea party. "And how do you like Mr. Smith, the headmaster, Freddie?" asked his uncle. "Oh, he's all right. I heard he was like a father to you?" "H'm—m. He's worse than that!"

I hope, in the approaching session of Parliament, to be able to introduce a Bill to fill another gap—that which occurs at present when a child leaves to enter employment and, having lost the protection of the school medical service, is unable to enjoy the protection of the National Health Insurance Scheme before the age of sixteen.

Another question to which much attention is rightly being directed at the moment is that of nutrition, and I believe that the dietary surveys which, at the request of my Advisory Committee, I am about to ask local authorities to make on my behalf will assist us to determine how best to apply in practice the teachings of modern science.

Physical Training

NOW comes the question of the steps we can take to improve facilities for physical training and help our young people to keep fit.

How much we owe to the physical education given in our schools it is impossible to estimate, but no one pretends that even here the provision is complete.

Much useful work in this connection is also being done by voluntary bodies.

The thanks of the nation are due to all those who are giving devoted service to such splendid organisations as the Boy Scout and Girl Guide movements and the National Playing Fields Association.

The number of organisations of this kind is now very large, and I rejoice that this is so.

But they have, like our public health services, grown up in a piecemeal way, and I believe that our first task is to consider how best we can co-ordinate and extend all the excellent work that is being done so that it may all be directed to the object in view without undue overlapping or waste of effort.

In the second place, we have to make sure that in a country which has been so rapidly urbanised as ours there are adequate facilities for games and exercise.

We are doing much to encourage the provision of open spaces, recreation grounds and swimming baths, and that work must continue.

Depends on the People

IN these and other ways the Government, local authorities and voluntary organisations are seeking to do their part. But in the long run success must depend on the people themselves.

Public health services and recreation grounds are a great waste of public money if they are not fully used. We need an awakened Public Opinion—not, indeed, to make our people overcareful of their health—for we do not want a nation of hypochondriacs—but so that we may all take full advantage of the opportunities that exist for a complete and vigorous life.

Be Careful, Not Fearful

LET me say to all who read this article—your health is largely in your own hands; be careful but not fearful of it.

Use the public health services as and when you need them. If you are ill consult a doctor in good time; but it is better to keep well by seeking open air and exercise. I commend to you two lines of verse—

Than see the doctor for a nauseous draught!"

E. Vyner.

HEADQUARTERS TO BE BUILT ON ISLAND

WORK COMMENCES SOON ON BIG MODERNISATION SCHEME

REORGANISATION OF THE ACCOMMODATION FOR TROOPS STATIONED IN HONGKONG ENVISAGES, IN ADDITION TO THE CONSTRUCTION OF A $20,000,000 CANTONMENT AT KOWLOON, THE ERECTION OF NEW ARMY HEADQUARTERS.

The new Headquarters buildings will replace those now in use at Seven and Sixpenny Hill, and will be erected in the vicinity. The present Army Headquarters were originally barracks. Two wings are occupied by Headquarters, while the third is still used to accommodate troops.

Work on the new Headquarters, which will be of most modern design, is expected to commence shortly.

Preliminary work will also be placed in hand shortly in connection with the construction of the new cantonment at Kowloon.

Before work is commenced on the construction of the buildings, a gigantic scheme of trenching will be undertaken in the entire surrounding area in order to safeguard the health of the workers and, later, the troops.

When this trenching system is completed, it is expected that the whole of the outlying Kowloon area, embracing Kowloon Tong, Kowloon City, Prince Edward Road, etc. will be entirely free from malaria.

Will New P. and O. Boats Be On Far East Run?

WILL the two new fast liners being built for the P. and O. fleet be placed in the far East service when they are put in commission next year? That is the question being asked in Hongkong shipping circles.

Both ships will be of the type and tonnage of the Strathmore—one of the P. and O.'s three "white sisters." The Strathmore and the Strathaird are the other two.

A number of internal refinements, suggested by past experience, will be included, but the general design will remain unchanged and the same colour scheme will be used.

Some difficulty is being experienced regarding the names of these two new liners, which are still only numbers—722 and 723.

The P. and O. Company intends them to carry on the "Strath" tradition, but the task of choosing names which will be suitable and not used elsewhere, have so far made it hard to make a final choice.

Both liners are certain to be capable of more than 20 knots. It is significant that the P. and O. Strathmore, on a recent run through the Bay of Biscay, achieved a speed of 21.63 knots over a distance of 515 miles.

CORONATION SPEED-UP

That shows what British ships are capable of provided a policy of speed is adopted. The record for the Bombay-Marseilles run is held by the Strathmore in 10 days against the clock.

Two fast liners from India will be specially employed by the P. and O. for the coronation rush next year. The two vessels, the Viceroy of India and the Strathmore, will take only 16 days, which is five days less than the normal schedule. This speed-up will enable passen-

Gun Battery For Stanley Peninsula

WORK STARTS ON ACCOMMODATION THE Stanley Peninsula on the Island of Hongkong will shortly become one of the Colony's fortified areas.

Work has already commenced on the construction of barracks to accommodate engineers and gunners.

Actually, the decision to station a battery at Stanley will not mean that Hongkong's defences are to be increased.

Under the terms of the Washington Treaty, which has not yet expired, this Colony is forbidden an increase in armaments.

The battery at Stanley will, therefore, be merely a re-sited battery or, in other words, one that will be removed from another part of the Colony.

It is interesting to recall that the Stanley Peninsula was the headquarters for the first garrison over to be stationed in Hongkong. For many years the military encampment was there, and the old cemetery, which is still cared for, testifies to the terrible toll of malaria among the troops in the early days of Hongkong's history. Principal occupants of land on the Peninsula at present are the St. Stephen's Boys and Girls Schools. Work is, however, nearing completion on the new Prison, which will be placed in service in March, when over 1,000 prisoners will be transported from Victoria and Leichikok Prisons.

It is not a usual sight to see hospitals. Here is one, however, in Jersey City, sky-scraper. This plant tuberculosis hospital with roof solarium for patients was recently opened there.

THREE NEW STAMP ISSUES FOR H.K. IN FIVE YEARS

CORONATION ISSUE WILL BE WITHDRAWN

HONGKONG will most likely have three new issues of postage stamps in the next five years.

The new Coronation issue, which will consist of four denominations only, will be placed in circulation on Coronation Day, May 12.

They will be withdrawn before the end of 1937, when an entirely new issue, of all denominations, will become the stamp of the Colony.

These King Edward VIII stamps will in all probability be replaced in 1941 by a temporary issue celebrating the centenary of the cession of Hongkong to Great Britain. It is hoped that these centenary stamps will be of a pictorial design.

The "Telegraph" understands that Hongkong's four Coronation stamps will be unique in as far as they will differ slightly from those issued to other Colonies.

In addition to the English word "Hongkong," they will contain equivalent Chinese characters. Stamps of other Colonies will contain the name of the Colony in English only.

RADICAL CHANGE

The first all-denominational issue of King Edward VIII stamps may, it is understood, radically depart from the style adopted for the King George V issues. It is understood that the authorities contemplate a reversion to the style adopted during the reign of Queen Victoria.

In view of the fact that all first class letters will probably be carried by air mail as from 1937, the Hongkong authorities do not contemplate issuing a special air mail stamp.

SNATCHER TAKES EAR-RINGS

MAN AND WOMAN CHARGED

A 29-year-old unemployed man, Kwong Fu, and a 70-year-old widow, Sue Ho, were charged before Mr. Keen at the Central Magistracy this morning with the theft of a pair of ear-rings and receiving the ear-rings respectively. The complainant was Wong Yuet, an amah, of No. 55 Robinson Road.

Detective-Sergeant T. Cushman said that about 6 p.m. on November 15, the complainant was walking up Peel Street towards Caine Road and when she neared Elgin Street, first defendant approached her from behind and snatched the ear-rings off her ear, breaking them in the process. He managed to make good his escape.

Later in the day, Chinese detective C444 received information as a result of which he waited outside No. 222 Queen's Road Central, which is a goldsmith's shop, and saw second defendant go into the shop where she sold the gold part of the ear-rings for $16. She was taken into custody, and it was revealed that the jade part of the ear-rings had been pawned for $1 at the Leung Yick Pawnshop. First defendant had a record of four previous convictions.

His Worship sentenced second defendant to three months' imprisonment, and remanded first defendant for 24 hours in gaol custody for medical examination.

ANOTHER CASE

Chan Chau-long, a clerk, was commended by Mr. W. Schofield, at the Central Magistracy this morning, for having made the arrest of a Chinese who snatched a pair of ear-rings from a woman at Pokfulam Road yesterday afternoon.

The defendant, Ng Lam, aged 20 years, was charged with larceny from Cheung Ngan, 42, unmarried woman, and was remanded 24 hours for medical examination.

Sergeant Mottram said that complainant was walking along Pokfulam Road at about 3.15 p.m. yesterday when defendant came up from be-

ENTERTAINED BY GERMAN CLUB

EXCITING FINISH TO A KEEN ENCOUNTER

(By "Veritas")

MEMBERS of the German Tennis Club at Tungshan threw their hospitable doors wide open during the week-end to a Kowloon Cricket Club tennis party, and made possible one of the most enjoyable and successful of these series of inter-club sporting and social events which are carried out yearly.

Lavish arrangements were made for the comfort and entertainment of the visitors, and these together with the happy atmosphere of warm friendship which existed and the keen tennis matches during the two days, made the visit a memorable one for Hongkong players.

The result of the tennis, which comprised men's and ladies' singles and doubles, and mixed doubles, was in doubt until the last. On Saturday the teams finished on level terms, each winning five matches. Sunday morning saw K.C.C. take a useful lead of two matches, but fortunes varied during the afternoon and when the final men's singles started, the visitors had a slender lead of nine matches to eight. It was expected that the German Club would draw level through G. Bodiker, but he was held to a draw after a first set of 20 games, the light being too bad to allow a finish.

K.C.C. LADIES SPLENDID

The visitors owed everything to their ladies for the position they found themselves in on Saturday evening. The Misses Griffiths, Dalziel and Mackenzie played splendidly on strange courts to win all three singles. One of the best matches of the programme was the vital mixed doubles between Bodiker and Mrs. Kanter and E. C. Fincher and Miss Dalziel.

Though suffering from a strained back which affected his game the previous day and stopped him from playing singles, Fincher put up a brilliant display in this encounter. The visitors won the first set fairly comfortably, Mrs. Kanter being rather below form. But the German players recovered strongly, ran away with the second set and led 4-2 in the final.

Then some volleying errors by Bodiker allowed the K.C.C. couple to recover, and finally they went out to a thrilling victory after a fine display of tennis.

Another smart win was that of R.S. Capell and Miss Griffiths against Mr. and Mrs. Rode. Mrs. Rode, the most promising lady player at the German Club was in fine form with her drives, but her partner faltered after a good start. The visitors lightened up their game after losing the first set, and once they were on level terms, could not be stopped, the third set going to them at 6-1.

BIGGEST UPSET

The biggest upset of the programme was the defeat of Gray and Miss Mackenzie by Nognitski and Mrs. Leppmann. Both K.C.C. players struck a bad patch, and, with the homesters playing steadily, there could be only one result.

Afterwards, the visitors went on to surprise the hosts by adding him to a first set, but Bodiker saved it and finally went to his points at 11-9. There was never more than one game difference in the scores throughout the match.

The "Veterans" encounters between Messrs. Dillner, Schneider, Lehmann, Hurst and Freeman were routine affairs. Once again Dillner came out tops against Hurst in the singles, while Freeman could not stand the pace in the hot sun and the doubles also saw Dillner and Schneider repeat an old victory, when they beat Hurst and Freeman.

SHOOTING MATCH

On Sunday morning, a couple of hours were spent on the club's rifle range, when the teams engaged in a shooting match.

WIN THROUGH TO SEMI-FINAL

Captain Milne and Mrs. Ashton yesterday won the semi-finals of the mixed doubles tennis championship when they beat G. E. Clarke and Mrs. McCaw in a second round encounter by 6-3, 6-4.

Mrs. Ashton was at the top of her form and was the best performer on view. Her steadiness proved too much for the opposition, while the understanding between her and Captain Milne was superior to that of the K.C.C. couple.

Clarke and Mrs. McCaw were leading 4-1 in the second set, but Capt. Milne and Mrs. Ashton made a great come-back, and after levelling the scores, went on to win the set and match in the tenth game.

Clarke played quite well throughout, and Mrs. McCaw was reliable until the closing stages. As a pair, however, the winners were infinitely the better.

TSUI AH-FAI BELOW FORM

Kowloon Chinese, 0 E. Lanes, 2

(O'Donnell, Tuley)

This match, played yesterday on the Club ground was another example of the futility of close inter-passing in front of goal. Kowloon Chinese had numerous opportunities, but they persisted in trying to take the ball up to the goal line before shooting. It was playing into the hands of Swain and Steele, who were perfectly happy against such tactics.

Territorially the Chinese were far superior to the soldiers, who were flattered to find themselves two goals to the good at half time. The first 20 minutes were all in favour of the losers, but indecision in front of goal brought about the collapse of several clever and promising movements.

The same story can be told concerning the last ten minutes. Only during the latter part of the first half and the early phases of the second half were the East Lanes on top.

All the same the soldiers were much improved on recent displays, notably in the attack, where O'Donnell, Tuley, and Smith made their presence felt.

Kowloon Chinese boasted the assistance of Tsui Ah-fai, but he did not give the best account of himself, and seemed to be out of touch with his colleagues.

UNFORTUNATE FUNG

Until his injury Fung King-yue was a brilliant attacker and caused the East Lanes a whole heap of trouble. His centres were admirably placed, and Thorpe at right half did not seem to know how to go about stopping this fast winger. But it cannot be said that the rest of the Chinese forward line impressed. They did lots of pretty things with the ball, but to no avail, almost invariably over-doing the fancy stuff to permit the soldiers' back to rush in and clear.

After being placed strictly on the defensive for a long period, the East Lanes suddenly found themselves in the opposite penalty area and O'Donnell improved the shining hour by shooting through for the first goal. Tuley followed with a second before the interval, but the score was against the run of play.

Both teams missed chances in the latter stages of the game, notably the Chinese, who still showed reluctance to "have a go". There were some exciting goalmouth duels in the last minute or two, when Chau Man-chi was seen to strike the outside of the net twice in quick succession when well placed.

MONTANA DEFENDING TITLE

San Francisco, Nov. 14. Small Montana, flyweight champion of the world, will be defending his title against Benny Lynch, the European champion, at the Wembley Stadium, London, before December 15.

The terms of his contract for the fight include a guarantee of $10,000 free of tax and three round-trip tickets to England.

Meanwhile, Montana will fight Star Frisco in a non-title fight at Pismo Beach, California, on November 20.—United Press.

Brilliant Display

S. China "A", 4 Athletic "B"

(Law Shu-ling, L. Wong Mee-shun, Tam Kung-pok)

Lai Shui-wing, South China's enormously improved inside right, was the man of this match, which tended to be slightly boring owing to the pronounced superiority of the winners.

Lai's deft touches, his skill in beating a complete defence and his brilliant creative work was always entertaining and put him in a class of his own. There is little doubt that if Lai continues his present progress he will be the natural successor to Fung King-cheung as the "brains" of the South China attack.

The Caroline Hill team had things practically all their own way in this match. Athletic never looked like staving off defeat. Their forwards could make no headway against the brilliant defence, and especially the brilliance of Lee Kwok-wai and his co-half backs.

The excitement in this match came from the cleverly staged manoeuvres of Wong Mee-shun. Tam Kung-pok and Lai Shui-wing. They led the Athletic rear-guard a merry dance with their pattern weaving. Tam was not so polished as his confreres, but he made a useful centre-forward, and especially when Tay Quan-ling and Tso Kwai-shing were sending across their high centres.

TAN'S GALLANT DEFENCE

Athletic owed practically everything to Tan Kwan-lon in goal that they did not have double figures run up against them. Tan found inspiration in the rather dismal showing of his colleagues, and stepped into the breach every other minute to prevent a goal.

The Athletic half backs were unable to cope with the elusive South China quartette, and both Lo Wai-man and Wong Sik-ping were guilty of bad kicking.

Cheung Moon-wing was the only forward who looked capable of threatening the champions' defence, but his single-handed efforts were useless against such experienced players as Li Tin-sung and Lau Mau.

Although they dominated the exchanges, South China could only score once in the first half. Tam Kung-pok rounded off a very pretty right wing movement. Thereafter it was all South China, and after Lai Shui-wing had planted on a second goal and Wong Mee-shun a third, Lai proceeded to walk through the opposition and then to send in a brilliant pile-driver which no goalkeeper could have saved.

RUGBY LEAGUE "SPLIT"

Taken With a Grain of Salt

Rumours of a split—then a denial—and high-sounding proposals concerning the formation of a Southern Rugby League should be taken with a pinch of salt.

The alarmist stories put into circulation last week amused rather than annoyed members of the Rugby League Council with whom I discussed the matter. One and all were quite satisfied that the League had fulfilled all its promises in regard to London, writes the News Chronicle rugby correspondent.

They could and would have done more, but the League was not sought. Official and unofficial warnings from the North were ignored and costly mistakes were committed.

Can it be that the misleading statement made last week to the effect that the Council had made a gift of the Newcastle club of £500, instead of having only guaranteed that amount at the bank if a similar amount could be raised locally, has plagued the Streatham officials?

In the creation of a Southern League, northern experience should be sought. There are possibilities about such a plan, which would be all the better for small beginnings—a junior league similar to the many that exist in Lancashire, Yorkshire and Cumberland at the present time.

Six Matches Open Badminton Season To-night

WHO'S WHO IN THE TEAMS

(By "Veritas")

A programme of six men's doubles matches inaugurates the 1936-37 badminton league season this evening. There are two "A" Division games and four in the "B" Division.

In the senior division Reccelo "A" and "B" are conceded best chances of winning, although the second string may have to bow the knee to St. Andrew's, who are fairly strong this year. Reccelo "B" may find the advantage of playing on their own court just sufficient to pull the game round in their favour. But there won't be much in it.

Reccelo "A" have to visit Chinese Recreation Club where the playing conditions are difficult, but it is too much to expect the Chinese to avoid defeat.

Chinese Y.M.C.A., the "dark horse" of the "B" Division make their bow in the league against the Victoria Recreation Club and they will more than likely open with a victory.

King's College, also newcomers, look good for two points from Sailors and Soldiers Home, but Kowloon Tong "B" cannot be expected to hold out against St. John's Cathedral, Kowloon Tong "A", away to St. Andrew's "B", have a fair chance of winning, though the odds are slightly in favour of the Saints.

The following have signified their willingness to play for the various clubs this winter.

CORRESPONDENCE

The Tilden-Vines Dinner Dance

Writing about the notes by "Veritas" concerning the Jack of public support for the proposed subscription dinner in honour of Tilden and Vines, "Sag" says:—

Those of us interested in tennis paid our money and saw the displays at the Cricket Club. Why therefore should we be expected to pay $10 for the privilege of seeing Messrs. Tilden and Vines entertained by the officials of the Hongkong Lawn Tennis Association?

It would appear that "Veritas" himself was not sufficiently interested, as he says that up to yesterday evening not a single booking has been made for the subscription dinner dance.

Personally I, as one of the Hongkong public have attended both of the matches staged, and hope to attend the future games. I feel, however, that even Bill Tilden's personality does not merit the disbursement of ten hard earned dollars (for a dinner dance) which could and will be applied to a better purpose.

I dislike the idea that Bill Tilden should feel the Colony has "decided to cold-shoulder him socially." This may be the opinion of "Veritas" or anybody else who expected the "cocktails," hot beverages, excellent dinner with drinks, dancing, and further drinks up to a certain time, but I doubt if it is the considered opinion of Messrs. Tilden and Vines.

"Veritas" writes in reply:—The alternative to rating the public for not supporting the subscription dinner dance, is to abuse the Hongkong Lawn Tennis Association for ever seriously considering that Hongkong would be in the slightest bit interested in such an event. Perhaps that should have been my angle, yet methinks that if the H.K.L.T.A. had made no effort whatever to provide a social programme for the tennis players "SAG" would have been one of the first to condemn the Association for their niggardliness and breach of good manners. Nevertheless to clear up any possible misunderstanding it should be made quite clear that what I wrote on Friday last constituted purely my personal opinion, and was not in any way the voice of either of the L.T.A. or Tilden and Vines.]

CHINA WILL COMPETE
IN 1940 OLYMPICS

BUT WILL TAKE NO FURTHER
PART IN FAR EAST GAMES

TRAINING FOR DAVIS CUP TEAM

Shanghai, Nov. 9.
China decided to compete in the next World Olympiad to be held in Japan in 1940 yesterday, at a special meeting of the directors of the China National Amateur Athletic Federation; and the general secretary, Z. L. Bill Sung, was entrusted with the task of drafting a plan of preparation for the Games, to be submitted to the directors for approval.

The meeting of the C.N.A.A.F. took place at Yenping Road Stadium, and a lengthy discussion started at 10 o'clock in the morning and lasted for about five hours. The conference was attended by Dr. C. T. Wang, Dr. Chang Pao-hong, William Z. L. Sung, Gamson Hoh, Y. Z. Wu, Dr. Chu Ming-nien, L. T. Yuan, Madame S. Koh, T. N. Chong and Carl Song. George Chow acted as secretary.

Among the decisions of the meeting were the selection of Kuo Shikie and Guy Chen to represent China in the 1937 Davis Cup competition in the European Zone, and Miss Tom Honing to accompany the Davis Cup team to compete in various tennis competitions in Europe. Miss Honing, who captured the Junior Lawn Tennis Championship at Wimbledon this season, is an overseas Chinese girl studying in England.

Dr. C. T. Wang's resignation from the office of chairman was accepted at the meeting. Dr. Wang has been appointed Chinese Ambassador to United States of America and his impending departure necessitated his resignation. Dr. Chang Pao-hong was elected to succeed Dr. Wang.

FAR EASTERN OLYMPICS
The meeting also decided to discontinue participation in the Far Eastern Olympic Games, as the result of the decision at the last Meet held in Manila. The Central Government will be approached for a subsidy for the preparation of the 12th World Olympiad in Japan and will be requested to establish the highest national athletic organization to centralize athletic development.

The lease of the New Stadium on Yenping Road will be renewed another year.
China will not participate in the 1937 international students' athletic meet, owing to the expense.
A reply will be sent to the Korean football team from Chosen that no guarantee can be given for their proposed visit during the Christmas holidays with regard to travelling expenses.

The meeting opened with a comprehensive report by the general secretary, W. Z. L. Sung, on the preparation for and selection of the Chinese delegation to the Berlin Olympiad, participation in the international athletic federation in Berlin, participation in the Olympics, Davis Cup competitions, the Shanghai International Rotary Shield Tennis tournament, football and basketball competitions conducted by the C.N.A.A.F. in Shanghai, and the publication of the Federation quarterly magazine.

William Sung, T. L. Yuan and Gamson Hoh were instructed to prepare a detailed report on the participation of China in the last World Olympiad in Berlin.

MACAO BEAT
SIGNALSVISITORS PUT UP
GOOD SHOW

(By Our Own Correspondent)

Macao, Nov. 15.
Exciting hockey was witnessed by a large crowd in Macao this morning when the Royal Corps of Signals, captained by Corp. D. Wainwright, engaged the formidable eleven of the Macao Hockey Club captained by Laertes da Costa, in a friendly tussle, the visitors being defeated by a score of six goals to nil.

Throughout the first half, the Signals held their own, combining defence and attack with many clever movements. It was only five minutes before the interval that any score was registered. The Macao forwards managed a smart breakaway and although Signals held their own, the goal by sending the ball to the right, Alberto Angelo took the ball immediately and drove a fast shot into the net from a sharp angle.

Dexterity of movement with the ball was displayed by the local forwards only a minute after the interval, and excellent individual stick work and close combination enabled them to carry the ball through the defence and score the second goal.

As the game proceeded Macao's superiority was much in evidence, goal after goal being added to their score.

VIGOROUS STRUGGLE
Despite being six goals down, the Signals continued to put up a vigorous struggle and were very unfortunate at failing to score a minute before the interval. The ball struck full in the face lying him out directly in front of the goal and preventing Thomson from making a clear shot.

Neither side was at full strength, the visitors being weakened by the absence of two of their forwards including W. Lowe, centre, and the local playing with three reserves. Roberts, the Signals centre-half, was particularly prominent, as was his opposite number Alrosa, "Jeff" Lammer, the former Hongkong Hockey Club player, at left back for Macao, placed his smashing hits with remarkable accuracy.

Today's match is the second to be played here against a visiting team from Hongkong this season, and it is recalled that the same teams which met to-day faced each other in Macao last year.

Besides hockey, soccer has been proceeding in Macao. At a match played to-day between the Police and the Argonauts Clubs, the former secured the honours by six goals to two.

Pling-pong is also being followed very enthusiastically here. In an inter-club contest which is proceeding, there is a keen rivalry among various clubs for the silver trophy to be awarded to the winners.

K.C.C. TENNIS PARTY
WINS AT CANTON

In mortal combat. Once again the Hongkong ladies fired exceedingly well, although they could not come anywhere near the Canton ladies, whose shooting excited general admiration. The German Club won the ring target competition quite easily, but the visitors held their own in the quick-firing event and registered the same number of hits, though in slightly longer time.

On Saturday evening, the Club was "At Home" to the K.C.C. party when nearly 50 sat down to dinner under the chairmanship of Mr. H. Schneider, President of the Club.

Mr. Schneider, in proposing the health of the visitors, offered them a warm welcome, and stressed how pleased the German Club was to be able to entertain them. The only thing he regretted was that there were not more young people in the Club long term.

Nevertheless they all enjoyed the strenuous matches between older players which they usually regarded as the "youngsters."

The toast was accorded musical honours, to which Mr. W. Hirst replied, saying how enthusiastically he enjoyed the generous hospitality of the German community in Tungshan, and how much the K.C.C. were looking forward to receiving them back as visitors.

The toast to the Tungshan German Garden Club was enthusiastically honoured by the K.C.C. players, and afterwards dancing was enjoyed in the club's reconstructed lounge.

The detailed results of the tennis and shooting matches follow:

RETAINS TITLE
Escobar Knocks Out Carlos Quintana

New York, Nov. 14.
Sixto Escobar, world bantam-weight boxing champion, retained his title to-day when he knocked out the Indian, Carlos "Baby" Quintana, of Panama, in the first round of a fifteen-round fight.

After the bout, Police invaded the gallery and arrested twelve persons who endeavoured to carry on the evening's hostilities with drawn knives.

The bout lasted 1 minute 39 seconds.

An United Press message adds that Escobar weighed in at 118 and Quintana at 117½ pounds.

In the first minute of the fight Carlos Quintana was leading on points, but in the second minute he aimed a left jab at Escobar's head which never landed. Escobar's right moved inside Quintana's arm and landed a punch flush on the chin, which floored Quintana.

Quintana made a vain attempt to rise, but fell back helplessly.

At to-morrow's meeting of the Rotary Club, Professor L. Forster will conclude his talks on his journey from Europe to Hongkong by train.

"RAINBOW" CUP
CONTESTRifle And Revolver Match

The 1936-37 series of sporting events for the "Rainbow" Cup was commenced at Stonecutters Ranges on Wednesday when the Rifle and Revolver match took place in ideal weather.

The R.A.O.C. emerged winners by taking all the Rifle events while the Rainbow proved better in the aggregate scores to win the Revolver event.

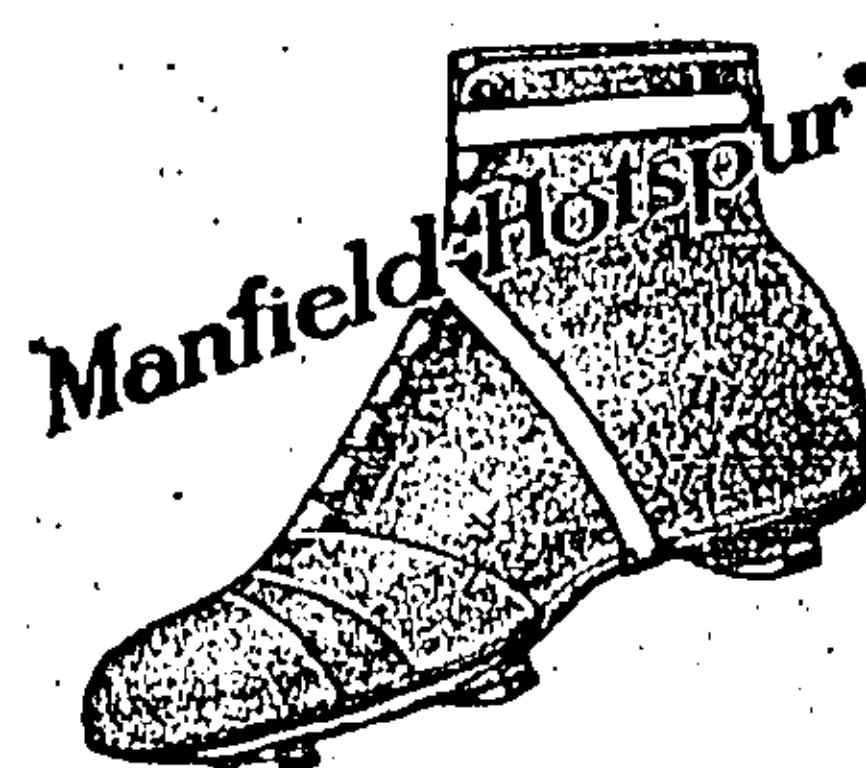

The competition continues on Wednesday next, when the two units play a soccer match at Happy Valley at 2.30 p.m., which will be followed in the evening by the Billiards and Snooker events at the Soldiers' Club.

CHRISTMAS MAILS FOR HOME: BUSY P. O. OFFICIALS

The counter at the Parcels Office of the G.P.O. was heaped high with Christmas parcels for Home when this photograph was taken.

Mr. S. Randle, Superintendent of Mails (LEFT) and his assistants were kept busy until well into the night sorting out the 2,000 parcels despatched by the Christmas Mail for Home on Saturday.

'Admits' Slaying

Donald J. Hazell, inmate of the State Hospital for the Insane, Patton, Cal., has confessed, authorities say, the brutal sex slaying of Ruth Muir, Riverside Y.W.C.A. secretary, who was found beaten to death in a cove at La Jolla.

MAY CURB FOREIGN INVESTOR

ENGLAND EXPECTS U.S. TO ACT

MONEY POURING INTO AMERICA

London, Nov. 14. Official quarters here to-day expressed the opinion that the British Treasury will conduct discussions with the United States regarding President Roosevelt's warning that foreign capital is being invested in American securities on a gigantic scale.

They indicated that such discussions would be concerned with the possible consequences of the President's declaration, which disclosed that many London stock-brokers had recently been doing more American than British business.

Financial circles say that foreign speculation in American securities is divided into three classes: (1) French investors who are eager to export their capital for political reasons; (2) American operators buying securities from abroad in order to evade paying United States taxes; (3) London and international gamblers inspired by the belief that the United States is on the threshold of a big industrial boom.

President Roosevelt's statement caused considerable excitement in the London stock market on Saturday. Meanwhile the shipment of £15,000,000 worth of gold to the United States recently is attracting the serious notice of British banking and foreign exchange circles. Britain prefers any initiative for correcting the situation to come from the United States due to the belief that any British interference might tend to undermine London's position as the world's monetary centre. — United Press.

PRICES IRREGULAR

New York, Nov. 14. Prices were irregular on the New York Stock Exchange to-day. The market rallied sharply after an early decline, although uncertainty continued to prevail over the plans to restrict foreign trading.

In addition, caution was instilled by the reports that charges of manipulation were being brought against several brokers.

There was fairly heavy realising and the market was influenced by the uncertainty in the commodity markets.

DARWIN'S DEFENCES

PART OF SINGAPORE DEFENCE SCHEME

FORTIFICATIONS now being erected at Darwin, Northern Australia, are an important adjunct to the Singapore defence scheme, states a Sunday Times message from Darwin.

The Chief Commonwealth Architect, Mr. Hastie, arrived in Darwin last month to advise local authorities on the projected works programme, and to design artificial protection so that a safe seaplane anchorage can be provided in the near future.

This seaplane base will be a vital part of the Darwin defence plan, which includes:

Protection of the nine naval oil-tanks which have a storage capacity of 72,000 tons;

Completion of a fort for the garrison which will man the guns guarding the harbour;

Dredging of the harbour, which has been provided with a 30-ft. mooring depth for cruisers;

Establishment of Royal Australian Air Force hangars and quarters four miles from the town;

Provision of a permanent water supply to replace existing tank and well sources;

Land has been acquired, and tenders have been called, for the construction of a naval depot for the training of reserves and naval radio direction finding station to supply bearings to warships and aircraft.

Java Chinese Plans Flight To Hongkong

Preparations are being completed for a long-distance aeroplane flight from Java to Hongkong and Nanking by Mr. Hsu Chi-hsing, a 30-year-old Java-born, Dutch-trained Chinese aviator.

Spurred by success in his Java-Holland long-distance flight last year, Mr. Hsu has decided to undertake the Java-China flight in order to study present conditions in his home country, particularly in the field of aviation.

STUDIED IN ENGLAND

Mr. Hsu, who graduated in 1933 from the Netherlands Military Officers' Academy and later had advanced studies in aerodynamics in England, will use a monoplane. The only other passenger on his flight will be his wife.

His 4,000-mile flight, it is learned, will be over Sumatra, Singapore, Bangkok, Hongkong, Shanghai, Amoy, Canton, and from there to Nanking. Mr. Hsu, it is said, will not attempt to set up any record, but will make the trip in comfortable stages.

Should he meet with unfavourable weather, Mr. Hsu will take the Hong route through French Indo-China instead of via Bangkok.

YANGTSE VALLEY CHANGES

NEW GOVERNORS TO BE APPOINTED

Nanking, Nov. 16. Changes in the personnel of several Provincial Governments in the Yangtse Valley are believed to be likely here.

Among the names mentioned for gubernatorial posts are those of General Ho Yao-tsu, Minister to Turkey, who is at present in China on leave of absence; and Mr. Chu Chian-hua, former Minister of Communications, who is at present acting Secretary of the General Central Political Council.

It is also reported that General Huang Shao-hsiung, Governor of Chekiang, may be transferred to another province.

The vacancy caused by the assassination of General Yang Yung-tai, Governor of Hupeh, has not at present been filled, as General Mang Kwang-pang, Commissioner of Civil Affairs in Hupeh, has declined the post. — Reuter.

SWEETHEART OF JAPAN'S FILMS

SETSUKO HARA

This charming little actress is living in Germany just now while one of the most ambitious Japanese motion pictures is in the making in German studios, under the direction of Dr. Franck. She is hailed in Germany as one of the international screen sensations of the day.

TOURISTS STRANDED BY STRIKE

MANY ARE FAST "GOING BROKE"

Honolulu, Nov. 16. An appeal to American shipping strikers to let one ship at least leave port, was made by the Yorkshirer, Mr. James Fenton, who landed in Hawaii while taking a holiday trip home after spending eleven years in Shanghai.

He is on the Shanghai police force and has been stranded in Honolulu for days, on account of the United States shipping strike and the general tie-up in this port.

Said Mr. Fenton: "The detention of harmless people is outrageous. Surely one ship can be allowed to leave immediately. Owners and strikers could be recompensed for the cost."

"While we are forced to remain here, I and many others are fast going broke. Honolulu costs us more daily than a week of living in England," he complained. — Reuter.

LIFE BANISHEE CHARGED

ALLEGED THEFT OF PURSE

Wong Tsai-hing, 26, unemployed, was brought up at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, before Mr. E. Himsforth, for stealing a purse containing $5.62 from the pocket of Tang Kee, dresser, residing at the Kwong Wah Hospital, while he was standing on the No. 1 Kowloon Godown Wharf on November 6.

Det. Sergt. Haynes stated that defendant had no local record, but that he was a life banishee from Singapore.

Defendant was reported to be unable to speak according to a doctor's report, but the interpreter explained the charge to him in sign language, and defendant signified that at the time of the theft there had been two men standing next to him and the man that had not turned up in court had been the one who had lost the purse.

Det. Sergt. Haynes stated that he had been standing behind defendant during the alleged theft and had seen the whole proceedings. Defendant, he alleged, realised that he had been seen and slipped the pocket book through a hole in his pocket and on to the wharf, where it was found.

A week's remand was given.

PROBATE GRANTS FORMER TIENTSIN MAN'S ESTATE

The late Mr. William Scott Borrow, formerly of Tientsin, who died at Peking on March 29 last, left local estate amounting to $6,100. An application by Mr. R. A. Wadson, solicitor, the lawful attorney, for sealing exemplification of probate of the will, has been granted.

Local estate worth $1,300 was left by the late Mrs. Carolina Maria Pereira, widow, formerly of 25 Bowerington Road, who died at St. Paul's Hospital on May 14, 1934. The deceased lady left no known next-of-kin, and letters of administration to the estate have been granted to Mr. E. P. H. Lang, Official Administrator.
